BOARD TO PRESS HELP FOR GRADY

Trustees Will Ask Immediate Action by Fulton County Commission.

Plans to press the request of the Grady hospital board of trustees for adequate county aid were discussed Monday night at a meeting of the board. Councilman J. Frank Beck and Trustee W. E. Harrington were appointed as a committee to assist Chairman Sam C. Dobbs in urging immediate action by the Fulton county commission.

Councilman Beck reported that he has found the commission inclined to accept the county's responsibility for sharing the burden of running the charity hospital, and that the commissioners seem agreed that the per patient day basis is the feasible solution of the problem.

Chairman Dobbs, on agreement by the board, voiced the demand that inmates be kept on duty so as to answer calls promptly at all hours. Under Mr. Dobbs' order, inmates are to work in relays at most by so that medical attention will be instantly available at any moment. Inmates are to stay on duty at the emergency clinic until relieved and are not to go out, Mr. Dobbs ordered.

Offer of Insulin. During a discussion of problems facing the hospital, Dr. Frank Eskridge, advisory council representative from the white unit, informed the board that the Rockefeller Foundation would endow municipal hospitals with free insulin, for treatment of diabetes, if records are kept adequately. Mr. Dobbs said he would take up the matter in New York on his next visit to that city.

John E. Franklin, who will become superintendent of Grady on June 1, told the board that he is conducting a survey of city hospital management here and in other cities, and that he will have some definite recommendations when the survey is completed.

City council will be asked by the board to allow fees collected by Steiner clinic, amounting to $16,000 a year, to be allocated to Steiner instead of going into the general fund of the city. The money, if obtained, will be used for needed equipment and improvements, and for additional personnel to be used both at Steiner and the white unit, the new employees to work between the two units.

Councilman Beck and Trustees Harrington and John E. Smith were appointed as a committee to work out the hospital budget for the June finance sheet of council.

Miss Ruth Sheafe, director of admissions, submitted a report for April showing 684 admissions and 113 refusals of admission, the refusals being due to non-residence or ability of the patient to pay for treatment.

Admission Rules Requested. Miss Sheafe asked the board to outline and regulations for admission and define eligibility for treatment. During a discussion of this request, it was pointed out that City Attorney James J. Mayson some time ago ruled that one day's residence in Atlanta made a person eligible for admission to Grady if indigent. The board, on a motion by Mr. Harrington, defined as a resident one who moves here actually for the purpose of living here, leaving to Miss Sheafe the task of determining the bona fide residents.

The suggestion was advanced that Miss Sheafe be made a notary public and be provided with affidavit forms for applicants for treatment. The affidavits would declare that the applicants are residents of Atlanta or Fulton county and are unable to pay for treatment.

Miss Sheafe is to consult with welfare organization representatives and the chairman of the county aims and juveniles committee in working out matters relating to eligibility for admission.

SPECIAL SESSION ASKED BY WOMEN

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(AP)—A delegation of six women and five children called at the White House today to urge President Hoover to call a special session of congress "to do something for the unemployed."

They were received by Walter Newton, one of the president's secretaries, who said he would give their petition to the president.

Those who called were Mrs. Anna Coppola, of New Haven, Conn., and her son, Michael; Mrs. Armita Johnson, of Cedar Grove, W. Va.; Mrs. Pearl Shifflet and her son, Joseph; Ward, W. Va.; Mrs. J. O. Morrison and her son, Eugene, of Danville, Va.; Mrs. James O'Donnell and her daughter, Edith, of Baltimore, and Mrs. Jennie Alletaz and her daughter, Mary, of New Bedford, Mass.

The women were brought to the White House by Benjamin Marsh, secretary of the peoples' lobby of Washington. Marsh said he intended to go to the Red Cross and urge that organization to sanction relief for strikers.

PUBLISHER'S WIFE ARRIVES AT RENO

RENO, May 11.—(AP)—Mrs. Martha Nicholson Doubleday, wife of Nelson Doubleday, New York publisher, arrived in Reno yesterday, prepared for a six weeks' residence.

Mrs. Doubleday was met by her attorney, Lester D. Summerfield, who admitted divorce might be her reason for coming to Reno, but said he could not discuss the case at this time.

AIRPLANE WILL CARRY SERUM TO COLOMBIA

NEW YORK, May 11.—(AP)—A shipment of 150 pounds of meningitis serum, enough for 400 injections, will leave Miami, Fla., by airplane tomorrow morning in answer to an urgent call from Medellin, Colombia, it was learned here today.

The call for the serum was received at Panama City last Wednesday from Vice Consul Carlos Hall at Medellin, where, he said, an epidemic of meningitis had broken out. Enough for only 65 injections could be located in hospitals on the Isthmus of Panama. He needed enough for 200. The amount sent leaves a margin for further emergencies.

It will arrive at Medellin, which is high up in the western Andes, by late Thursday or early Friday, after a 3,000-mile trip which, without the use of airplanes, would take about 15 days.

The serum is to be carried by Pan-American Airways from Miami to Jamaica and across the Caribbean to Baranquilla, Colombia, at the mouth of the Magdalena river, arriving there Wednesday noon.

The Seadta Airline, which operates in Colombia, will carry it up the Magdalena valley 800 miles to Porta Berio, where it will arrive Thursday noon. From Porta Berio it will be carried by airplane or train over the mountains into Medellin.

The shipment was sent from New Jersey and arrived in Miami tonight.

4 Standups Too Much, Says Irate Fiance

NEW YORK, May 11.—(AP)—Miss Deborah Antler doesn't mind being "left at the church" once. But four times is too many, she told police.

She had $750 in savings which she gave to Frank L. Teller, she said. He was to buy furniture.

When he wouldn't show her the furniture and failed to appear at the license bureau as promised the first time, or the second, third and fourth, she had him arrested.

The charge is larceny.

6 ALLEGED CRIMINALS VIEWED FOR IDENTITY

CHICAGO, May 11.—(UP)—Six unsolved prisoners accused of murders, kidnappings, bank robberies and assorted lesser crimes throughout the middle west, scowled and cursed at a host of citizens who hurried here tonight in an effort to identify them as perpetrators of many outrages long unsolved.

The sextet, composed of Thomas Connors, Howard Lee, Thomas Hayes, John Britt, Edward O'Hara and William McQuillan, was called by authorities the midwest's "most vicious criminal gang."

Britt, Connors and Lee were identified with a $2,500,000 Lincoln, Neb., bank holdup. Connors was named as one of the participants in a $15,000 Plano, Ill., bank robbery. O'Hara was charged with two murders in Terre Haute, Ind.

Their alleged victims came into Chicago from Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin, Missouri and Nebraska. Authorities said that by tomorrow perhaps 100 men will have arrived to view them at detective headquarters.

CAPITAL MAY HEAR STATE-U.S. DISPUTE

Senator George To Carry Auto Tag War to Justice Department.

Warfare between the state of Georgia and prohibition enforcement officials, into which United States Attorney Clet W. Hager stepped last week, will be taken to the department of justice by United States Senator Walter F. George, it was reported at the capitol Monday.

Senator George, who was here last week, conferred with Secretary of State George C. Davis and assured him that he would personally present the state's side of the argument to Washington officials.

Inspectors from the motor vehicle commissioner's office and the revenue commissioner's office last week stopped the automobile driven by F. B. Clark, prohibition agent. They found, they contend, that the car carried an irregular tag and they cited Clark to court.

White To Rule Summer Fashions, New York Style Leaders Decree

BY JANE EADS.

NEW YORK, May 11.—(AP)—We will have a white summer this year. This is not the weather man's forecast. It is the prophecy of the fashion experts.

White, like a far-reaching blizzard, will storm the ports of fashion everywhere. It is the basic color note of the season and will be worn alone or with gay splashes of color.

One of the most acceptable outfits of the summer showings offered by Fifth avenue shops is the street and sports suit of white linen, corduroy, pique and flannel.

White jersey bathing suits, their severity relieved by triangular insets of pink, blue, green, yellow, blue and red bathing slippers, caps and bags are bright accessories which add unusual chic.

A golfing outfit consists of a white corduroy skirt, fitted tightly around the hips and flared below the knees, a tailored blouse of soft white cotton mesh and a string turban of chalky white. One-piece tennis frocks of cotton or silk with colored belts, French print kerchiefs tied triangularly over one shoulder and soft scarfs wound loosely about the head are also popular.

White duck or jersey sailing pants worn with short-sleeved jumper shirts of blue and white, red and white, or black and white striped jersey will be one of the picturesque costumes of the swanky yachting party.

White is still the prima donna of the evening. Suave gowns of lustrous satin and sheer chiffon molded closely to the figure, but emphasizing a graceful, flowing fullness below the hips, are important features of the formal summer attire. Red in a variety of exciting shades, blue and pistachio greens, lemon yellow and a number of berry and brown shades are used to enliven the ensemble.

The use of color is generally offset in the addition of two-color sashes with romantic bows and ends trailing to the hem, or in narrow patent leather belts and tailored patent leather flowers. One black chiffon evening gown displays a gardenia white patent belt and white flowers. Shoulder jackets, brief eccentricities of color in taffeta, satin and chiffon velvet are vivid compliments to the ensemble blanc. The hip-length jacket of linen and flannel in red, green and French horizon blue also will provide the necessary color note on the play courts of the country.

It will be a white season; of that the stylists are sure. But strangely enough, the traditional white of the wedding gown is giving way to color.

Fifth avenue trousseau salons are coming forth with bridal outfits in palest blue, the most delicate pink, even soft beige. The idea, as most style ideas do, originated at a famous Parisian wedding recently. The veil, the long elbow length kid gloves, the slippers, hosiery and all, were of

Skies To Clear This Afternoon, Forecast Says

"The uncertainty of present weather conditions is unsatisfactory," C. P. von Hermann, United States meteorologist, asserted Monday when he issued a forecast indicating that showers may last through this morning. The weather probably will clear up during the day, Mr. von Hermann said.

"It is a hard job to say just what the situation will be—what with disturbances popping up in one's face with alarming irregularity and frequency," Mr. von Hermann said. "I believe, however, we will be safe in expecting that the occasional showers will cease some time Tuesday morning."

Temperatures today will be the same, or perhaps a trifle higher, than the 57 to 68 degree range of Monday, the weather man said.

Wives of Woman Snared Einstein, Wife Discloses

NEW YORK, May 11.—(AP)—The Jewish Telegraphic Agency, in a dispatch from Berlin, says Mrs. Albert Einstein, wife of Professor Albert Einstein, today revealed that her distinguished husband had been the victim of a woman impostor while he was in California last winter.

On the strength of allegedly false letters, a Mrs. Bela Moskowsky, for some time a resident of San Diego, and who claimed to be the daughter of the late composer, Moritz Moskowsky, had interested the Einsteins in a proposed music school. She also had prevailed upon the Einsteins to be photographed with her.

It was only upon their return to Berlin that the Einsteins learned that they had been victimized. After some investigation, Mrs. Einstein learned from the Moskowsky family that the composer never had a daughter.

The woman also showed the Einsteins a letter, now proven to be false, from the late Max Nordau to the late Dr. August von Wassermann, famous biologist.

HUNT CALLS CITIZENS TO DISCUSS ARIZONA

PHOENIX, Ariz., May 11.—Representative citizens of Arizona, designated by Governor George W. P. Hunt as the "best minds" of the state, gathered at the capital today to speak by conference, ways and means of bettering Arizona's economic condition as affected by the copper mining situation.

"Today Arizona faces a crisis," the veteran chief executive told the conference. "The copper industry, an activity that raised Arizona to the rank of the foremost state in the mining of this metal, has diminished in an alarming degree. Many mines have ceased production entirely; others materially have decreased their output."

Florida Delegation of Junior Leaguers Flies Here on Way to Cincinnati Meeting

From left to right they are, Mrs. W. D. Young, Jr., of Jacksonville; Mrs. Claiborne Phipps, of Tampa; Mrs. Karl E. Dunaway, of Miami; Mrs. Clark Howell, Jr., president of the Atlanta Junior League; Mrs. Turner Jones, also of the Atlanta League, and Mrs. R. J. Upham, of St. Petersburg. Staff photo by George Cornett.

Passengers disembarking from Eastern Air Transport's northbound plane from Miami Monday afternoon at Candler field included four prominent young society women who will be delegates from Florida to the eleventh annual conference of the Junior Leagues of America, opening today at Cincinnati. They are Mrs. Karl E. Dunaway, of Miami; Mrs. Claiborne Phipps, of Tampa; Mrs. R. J. Upham, of St. Petersburg, and Mrs. W. D. Young, Jr., of Jacksonville.

French Representative Busy Getting U. S. Mayors to France

BY SIDNEY B. WHIPPLE.

NEW YORK, May 11.—(UP)—The busiest man in New York today was Rene Racover, representative extraordinary of the French government and chaperon, nursemaid, guide and companion to no less than 28 American mayors and city officials, their wives—if any—and a few of their daughters, whom he will escort to France Friday.

Piled high on his desk are stacks of letters, notes, telegrams and cables. Telephones ring constantly. Many of the mayors, in fact a majority of them, have never been out of the United States before. Some of them have never been east of the Mississippi. They want to know if they need passports; what kind of clothing they should wear; does everybody dress for dinner; where do they get their visas; does their state-room have a bath; can they bring another daughter along; how do they get to the boat; what time do they sail; do they need flannel trousers; how much money should they carry along; and so on and so forth, ad infinitum.

Patiently, for he is an agreeable soul and his one desire is to make this conglomeration of officialdom happy, Racover answers all questions, cheers them up, tells them the best cure for seasickness is to forget about it, and gives them the forecast of weather conditions throughout France, so they may be prepared for helmy weather. He advises them to shun woolen underwear and to eat lightly for a few days. He is father, mother and spiritual adviser all in one.

The mayors are about as representative a set of Americans as ever set sail from these shores. They range in age from 33—Roland Marvin, of Syracuse—to 78, Alvin P. Gray, of Pasco, Washington. They are about evenly divided as to politics, the operation of the Volstead law, cancellation of debts, and foreign "entanglements." But none of them objects at being so happily entangled with the French government as to be the beneficiary of a six weeks' tour of France, a visit to the international colonial exposition, presentation to the president of the republic, and a trip around the circle from the chateaux district to the French Alps.

The proposal to honor these municipal executives was conceived by Racover when he viewed the remarkable enthusiasm of those cities where Dieudonne Costes and Maurice Belletto stopped on their good-will tour around the United States last year. Upon his return to Paris, he suggested it to the government offices, and Racover is the persuasive gentleman, and has such force to his arguments that it was but two weeks after he had proposed the pilgrimage when the arrangement was concluded.

American businessmen who pride themselves on their pep, vitality, go-gettiveness ought to spend a day with Rene Racover.

JOHN R. VOORHIS REELECTED SACHEM

NEW YORK, May 11.—(AP)—John R. Voorhis, who is in his 102d year, was continued as grand sache of Tammany Hall tonight. It will be his twentieth year in the office although the by-laws of the organization forbid the re-election of a grand sache. Failure of the saches to agree on any one candidate resulted in continuation for Voorhis, chairman of the board of elections of New York.

CALL MONEY TOUCHES LOWEST IN 23 YEARS

NEW YORK, May 11.—(AP)—For the first time since September 9, 1908, call money renewed at one per cent today at the New York Stock Exchange loaning desk.

The renewal rate, which is the interest charged on previously contracted brokers' borrowings, reflects conditions in the short term money market, and today's extremely low figure was an aftermath of the recent cut in the New York federal reserve bank's discount rate to 1 1/2 per cent. With a few interruptions caused by temporary and minor stringencies due to seasonal influences, the stock exchange renewal rate has been 1 1/2 per cent for some time.

The highest call money rate since the establishment of the federal reserve system was inaugurated was 30 per cent on November 12, 1919, but the record is the 125 per cent that appeared in October, 1907, during the "money panic" when bankers organized an emergency money pool.

DEMOCRAT ANSWERS DEFENSE OF TARIFF

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(AP)—Criticism of Democrats by Representative Ramseyer, of Iowa, for advocating lower tariff rates was answered today by Representative Greenwood, Indiana democrat.

Referring to Ramseyer as "a fresh recruit in the ranks of those republicans who are trying to keep intact the administration's alibi wall against the weight of the Hawley-Smoot tariff," Greenwood said in a statement through the democratic national committee:

"Ramseyer, a republican member of the ways and means committee of the house, was not so ardent about the tariff bill when it was under debate. However, as a gesture of party regularity, he held his nose and voted for it on final passage."

"Now he is engaged as a member of a vociferous group endeavoring to fasten the guilt for the present economic conditions upon those who are striving to find a way to open up foreign markets for our ever-increasing surplus from farms and factories."

King Is Improving, Physicians Report

PURCHASE, N. Y., May 11.—(AP) A bulletin from attending physicians today said King Prajadhipok of Siam, who yesterday underwent an operation for removal of a cataract from his left eye, was suffering no pain and passed a restful night.

"His majesty, the king, passed a very good night and slept almost without interruption. He has no pain in his eye."

His eyes bandaged, he was obliged to remain perfectly quiet but if he continues to improve he will be able shortly to listen to concerts from his kingdom over a radio receiving set installed at Ophir Hall last week.

After the bandages are removed he will be obliged to wear dark glasses for a time but eventually, with the aid of special spectacles, his vision, it is believed, be practically normal.

COTTON LEADER DEAD IN TEXAS

SAN ANGELO, Texas, May 11.—(AP)—William L. Black, 88, charter member of the New York Cotton Exchange, died today at his ranch south-west of here.

He had worked for years to establish trading in futures in wool. His death was just one week in advance of the date set for the opening of a futures market on wool tops by the New York Cotton Exchange.

Black was a member of the "San Salvador Pirates" of the Southern Confederacy and was tried and convicted of piracy on the high seas at San Francisco navy yard. With a group of other southern soldiers he boarded a ship at Panama, planning to overpower the officers and crew and take the ship for the Confederacy.

Before they could carry out the plan 150 marines from an adjoining ship came aboard, took the Confederates prisoner and sent them to San Francisco. Black was then 19 years old.

After the trial and conviction he was assigned to the office of the prison warden, who interceded for him and obtained his pardon. Black went to Washington and secured the pardon of his companions.

He came to Texas after the Civil War and took up land about Fort McKavett, which at that time was being abandoned as a federal army post.

Hale and hearty to the last, he spent much of his time writing on better marketing conditions for wool and mohair.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at his old ranch at Fort McKavett.

DENSE FOG HALTS JAPANESE FLYER

MAIBO, ITURUP, Kurile Islands, May 12.—(Tuesday).—(AP)—A dense fog today held Seiji Yoshihara, Japanese good-will flyer, in Naha bay.

Yoshihara, flying to San Francisco and Washington, D. C., by way of the Aleutian Islands, landed here Saturday after a 135-mile flight from Nemuro, Japan.

Reports of snowstorms ahead delayed him and then one of the dense fogs common to these islands settled. To make up time Yoshihara plans to skip a scheduled stop at Tokotan, Urup islands, flying directly to Katakata bay, a distance of 685 miles.

JAPANESE ROYALTY FETED BY CHICAGO

Globe Girdling Honeymoon Nearing Completion as City Declares "Royal Night."

CHICAGO, May 11.—(AP)—Tonight was "royalty night" for Chicago Japanese.

It marked the opening of a two-day fete in honor of Prince Nobuhito Takamatsu and his 19-year-old bride, Princess Kikuko Tokugawa, nearing the end of a globe-girdling honeymoon.

The royal couple, wed last year in Japan, had an opportunity to see Chicago at its most spectacular. Their visit coincided with "jubilee week," for which the city donned its gayest attire.

The program for them was arranged so they could take advantage of the prevailing mild grass spirit. From the time of their arrival to night from Detroit until they leave for the west a series of dinners, receptions and leisurely trips about town were mapped out.

Two banquets and a visit to the Chicago Board of Trade were planned for tomorrow. One was sponsored by the Japan-America Society and 500 guests had been invited. They included President and Mrs. Walter Dill Scott, of Northwestern University, and President and Mrs. Robert Maynard Hutchins, of the University of Chicago. Their institutions have many Japanese students. The other banquet was a simple, private affair with Yoshio Muto, Japanese consul here, as host.

The visit to the Board of Trade afforded the visitors a new fillip—a chance to see America's great grain-trading mart. They were given another tonight in the brief trip down Michigan avenue from the Roosevelt road station to the Drake hotel. The route gave them a chance to view the nighttime skyline at its brightest.

Mrs. Herbert Z. Hopkins

A graduate of Brenau College in Macon, Mrs. Herbert Z. Hopkins of 608 Morningside Drive, N. E., is prominently identified with Atlanta's musical circles. She moves among the younger social group, too, and finds Welch's enthusiastically received at her functions. "For the dinner cocktail, Welch's is unsurpassed," says Mrs. Hopkins. "My guests are always intrigued with its attractive color and exclaim over its appetizing flavor. Men are very fond of Welch's served with ginger ale."

...for Glowing Health!

Keep your heritage of youthful charm this easy, natural way...

HOW much more pleasant and sensible to keep good health than try to win it back! Welch's is one of Nature's most efficacious aids to normal bodily vigor. That is why increasing thousands make this delicious, wholesome fruit juice a daily habit throughout the year.

Housewives, and mothers especially, esteem the juice of sun-ripened Concord grapes because they are so rich in mineral salts, neutralizing acids and fruit proteins which supply quick tonic energy. These are just the vitalizing elements needed most by children.

Give the Welch's method of health control a month's trial. Drink it any time of the day, but particularly serve it as a breakfast fruit. You'll find it wonderfully appetizing. Add one-third to one-half water, if you like, for Welch's is concentrated goodness, yet it does not add an undesired ounce to one's weight. Then note how fit you feel and how your appearance has improved.

The best plan is to keep a supply of Welch's in the pantry... always. There is no better form of health insurance. Ask for it by name. Only thus can you be sure of purest pasteurized grape juice bottled under rigid laboratory control.

the Quill and Scroll Society, it was announced Monday. Five of the winners—four girls and one boy—are students at Commercial High school; the other, Miss Mary Roberts, who won the state prize for poetry—a silver loving cup—is a student at Girls' High. Miss Adelaide Cunningham is teacher of the Commercial High school class which produced five state winners.

For the best short story submitted by a Georgia high school student, Miss Ethel Mae Beavers, of Commercial High, was awarded the South Seas edition of the works of Robert Louis Stevenson. Miss Mary Philpott, of Commercial, received $5 for the best magazine cover; Miss Evelyn Mathieu, of Commercial, $1 for the best editorial; Miss Hilda Isakson, of Commercial, a certificate for the best news story, and Lewis Ball, of Commercial, a certificate for the best humorous "column."

Nearly a million students participated in the national contests this year, and the high quality of workmanship displayed in the average contribution received warm praise from the judges, who included some of the most distinguished editors, journalists and educators in the country. The journalistic section of the contest was sponsored by Quill and Scroll, national honorary society for high school journalists, which is to publish winning contributions in book form.

Millican Bids Key Bon Voyage, Assumes Office

Mayor Pro Tem. G. Everett Millican Monday became acting mayor of Atlanta with the departure of Mayor James L. Key for Paris, and prepared to occupy a dual role from now until May 23—that of mayor and a candidate for Fulton county commissioner.

Mayor Key and his daughter, Miss Ruth Key, left Atlanta Monday morning for New York, whence they will sail May 15 aboard the Ile de France. They will be guests of the French government at the Overseas Colonial Possessions exposition at Paris.

Several side trips, including a visit to Rome and a probable interview with Premier Mussolini, are planned. John E. Smith, member of the Grady hospital board, was one of the last callers at the executive suite Monday morning and presented the mayor with a copy of Mussolini's autograph.

Members of the Atlanta Club, organization of women employees of the city hall, called on the mayor to wish him bon voyage, and he delivered a short speech to them in French, telling them he would think of them every day.

Millican will be Atlanta's chief executive by day and a candidate by night. He will hold his first public rally at 7:30 o'clock tonight at Adair school, in the tenth, his home ward.

CALDWELL FILES ANSWER TO SUIT

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., May 11.—(P) Rogers Caldwell, Nashville financier, sued as one of nine alleged signers of a $4,000,000 bond executed by the defunct Holston Union National bank to secure the state for deposits in the bank, filed answer in chancery court today claiming no liability should be fixed against him until the assets of the bank have been liquidated.

In his answer he admitted executing the bond.

The suit was brought by the state of Tennessee against four surety companies and signers of a bond, including Caldwell, to recover $1,593,575.35 state highway funds alleged to have been on deposit in the bank when it closed last November.

Last in line were the official cars, bearing 12 officers as a personal bodyguard for the car bearing the general and his wife. This group was led by the drum corps of Atlanta Post No. 1, American Legion, which in turn was led by its drum major, Mrs. Frank Smith, and the mascot, Master Leslie Baker.

At the capitol Governor Hardman shook hands with General and Mrs. Higgins and lauded the work of the Salvation Army. "I know of no organization that meets the needs of the county and the community more than does the Salvation Army," he said. "Its success is assured because it serves the principles of the Master." He then thanked the general for coming to the capitol.

On the steps with Governor Hardman was Adjutant General Homer C. Parker, commander of the national guard units in Georgia.

General Higgins made a brief response to the governor's greeting and in behalf of his comrades thanked him for the state's reception.

During the afternoon there were sectional officers' conferences, followed at 7 o'clock Monday night with an officers' council held at the First Baptist church, conducted by the general.

Monday afternoon, three classes of officers commissioned from the Southern Training college on Luckie street, held class reunions at the Winwood hotel, where banquets were served.

The reunions were held by the 1927-28 class, the first full year class to be graduated here; the 1928-29 class, and the 1929-30 class, known as the "Trail-blazer session." This latter was the largest class ever to be commissioned in this territory. Of the 55 officers who received their commissions, 30 members, headed by Captain R. D. Brown, of territorial headquarters, attended the banquet.

The congress will close today with three sessions of officers' councils beginning at 10 o'clock this morning in the First Baptist church. Times of each of the two following councils will be announced at that time. These meetings are for members of the Salvation Army only.

Hardman Extends State's Official Greeting To International Heads of Salvation Army

Governor L. G. Hardman, on the steps of the state capitol Monday noon, extended Georgia's official welcome to General and Mrs. Edward J. Higgins, international commanders of the Salvation Army. The state's chief executive is shown in the center of the group above. Lieutenant Commissioner Edward J. Parker is standing between General Higgins and the governor and Colonel Joseph Pugmire between the chief executive and Mrs. Higgins. Staff photo by Kenneth Rogers.

With uniforms of the Salvation Army, American Legion drum and bugle corps, the police band, Boy Scout troops and other bodies forming a colorful background, Governor L. G. Hardman Monday noon at the capitol extended the official greeting of the state of Georgia to General and Mrs. Edward J. Higgins, international commanders of the Salvation Army.

The greeting was extended on the steps of the Washington street entrance to the state house, where more than 900 delegates of the southern territorial congress of the Salvation Army, which ends today, were assembled with representatives of various local organizations. The general and his wife came to Atlanta from London, England, to conduct this congress.

Prior to the official welcome from the state, a parade was held through the downtown business district of Atlanta, moving from the territorial headquarters at 54 Ellis street down Peachtree and Whitehall street to Hunter street and then to the capitol.

In the vanguard, with the national colors, were the police band and the southern staff band of the Salvation Army. Various divisions of the territory and the staff officers came next, followed by the Louisville (Ky.) Salvation Army band. Other officers and members of the Life Saving Scouts and Life Saving Guards, organizations of the army affiliated with the Boy Scout movement, were next in line, followed by the Training College band and members of the training college staff and its cadets.

Last in line were the official cars, bearing 12 officers as a personal bodyguard for the car bearing the general and his wife. This group was led by the drum corps of Atlanta Post No. 1, American Legion, which in turn was led by its drum major, Mrs. Frank Smith, and the mascot, Master Leslie Baker.

Personalities Behind the News—Hoover

Editor's Note: The following story, giving intimate, little-known facts about President Hoover, is the first of a series. "Personalities Behind the News," The Constitution will bring you daily. Aristotle Brand, one of France's leading statesmen and a candidate for the presidency in Wednesday's election, tomorrow will be the subject of a story by Smith Reavis, who knew him well while stationed in Paris until recently as a member of the Associated Press staff.

BY EDWARD J. DUFFY.
(Copyright, 1931, by the Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, May 11.—President Hoover works methodically through long days and of many an evening. He keeps red and yellow sugar candies in his desk for two grandchildren.

He smokes cigar after cigar, talks freely to one or another man whom he knows but generally becomes uncommunicative in a group. He likes fast walks and keeps his head down as a rule. His hair is getting thinner and grayer.

He will be 57 on August 10 and is in his third year as president of the United States.

"Mr. President" has a personality somewhat different from that of the Herbert Hoover who directed Belgian relief during the war and was secretary of commerce in the Harding and Coolidge cabinets. He seldom relaxes, and constantly observes the dignity of his office in formal manner.

On the steps with Governor Hardman was Adjutant General Homer C. Parker, commander of the national guard units in Georgia.

MELLON INVITES BIDS ON TREASURY ISSUE

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(P)—Secretary Mellon today invited bids for $100,000,000 in treasury bills to meet government expenditures.

The amount will bring securities issued by the treasury since last March 15 to $2,610,000,000. The bills will be issued in two series, one for 60 days and the other for 91 days.

Meanwhile the belief persisted that the treasury was preparing to announce a large issue of long-term bonds late this summer. No official, however, would comment.

DE FOREST'S ESTATE IS LEFT TO FAMILY

NEW YORK, May 11.—(P)—The will of Robert W. De Forest, late president of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, filed for probate today, leaves his residuary estate, together with his personal property and $250,000 to his widow.

His four children, Johnston De Forest, Henry L. De Forest, Mrs. H. Rowland Vermilyea and Mrs. W. A. W. Stewart will each receive $250,000.

The Metropolitan Museum of Art and the Charity Organization Society of the City of New York each will get $100,000.

A like sum is left to the Adirondack Mountain Reserve of which De Forest was president.

Mr. De Forest's share in Jekyll Island, off the coast of Georgia, goes to the widow.

Have you ever driven a 12-Cylinder Car?

The one fundamentally new thing in motoring is multi-cylinder performance. Unless you have experienced a demonstration of a Cadillac V-12 or V-16, you cannot appreciate what the multi-cylinder engine means to motoring luxury. In fact, it has made motoring as genuinely luxurious, from every standpoint, as any known mode of transportation. Yet, these cars do not carry the penalty of excessive price. The V-12, for instance, is priced within the immediate range of numerous conventional cars. May we send you a V-12 for an informative demonstration?

The Cadillac V-12, with Fisher and Fleetwood coachwork, ranges in price from $3795 to $4895, f. o. b. Detroit. Convenient G. M. A. C. terms are recommended.

You are invited to visit the Cadillac Spring Salon wherein custom models, rarely seen on dealers' floors, will be exhibited, daily from 9 A. M. to 9:30 P. M.

G.O.P. Expected to Drop Curtis From Presidential Ticket

BY GLADSTONE WILLIAMS. Curtis off the republican presidential ticket in 1932 to make way for a more harmonious running mate have efforts on the part of Hoover strategists to ease Vice President Charles ington and have apparently been accepted by the vice president as the big end of an otherwise dubious political bargain.

It is now being said unequivocally by those sharing the confidence of the vice president that unless the political uncertainty attaching to President Hoover's chances for re-election clarifies materially between now and next year he will voluntarily relinquish any claim he may have to renomination and seek instead his old place in the senate from Kansas.

It seems that this is exactly what some of the president's close advisers want—in so far as it applies to Mr. Curtis' running for the senate again. Antedating even the Kansas City national convention of 1928, which found Mr. Curtis openly and actively aligned, at the start, with the forces bent on the defeat of Hoover, there has never been any affection between the two. Such a relationship has been an open secret around Washington since the beginning of the administration. For one thing the president has never taken steps, so far as the public is informed, to stop any of the ugly rumors and reports which from time to time have come forward in promotion of this or that suggested candidacy against the vice president.

Would Drop Curtis. It has almost been a foregone conclusion for several months past that the Hoover forces would sidetrack Curtis for someone else at the next national convention.

Not until recently, however, did Mr. Curtis become really suspicious about the situation. His confidence was shaken somewhat by the "coincidence" of receiving, of sudden, as it were, a flock of letters from Kansas urging him to save the state from the Democrats in 1932 by again offering for the senate. The coincidental feature of it was that former Senator Henry Allen, of Kansas, a former bitter enemy of Curtis and a close ally to Mr. Hoover's, had just previously visited the state. There was left the suspicion in the minds of friends of the vice president that the Kansas letters were inspired by Senator Allen, who was defeated last year by the first democrat, George McGill, to be elected to the senate from the Smelter state in years.

McGill was elected to the unexpired term which Curtis vacated when he resigned to accept the vice presidency, which means that he must come up for re-election again next year. The vice president's friends look upon the affair as a move to ease him off the ticket voluntarily, as against the alternative of having Hoover delegates at the next conclave simply ignore his candidacy for renomination—a blunt method that would be sure to leave Curtis followers in the middle west disgruntled if not openly antagonistic.

Curtis Left in Air. As the story is told here by those claiming to be on the inside of developments, Mr. Curtis was finally, in the face of so many reports, persuaded to go to the White House to talk things over with the president. He wanted to know just what the chief executive's attitude was to him regarding again on the same ticket. The president, according to the same source of information, was cordial enough, but was unable to make any definite commitments as to what the national convention might do.

To put it another way, the vice president, it is said, was left very much in the air. He left without sufficient assurance that his name would again grace the party's presidential ticket. If anything he got the impression that maybe someone else would be more acceptable.

At any rate the interview is reported to have been convincing enough for him to look with favor upon the proposal that he seek a return to the senate. As things now stand, he is represented as feeling that there is more assurance of his re-election to the senate than to the vice presidency—a bargain. It, therefore, would cause no surprise in informed Washington circles to see an announcement from him in the course of time touching on his plans for re-entering the senate, where, before his election to the higher office three years ago, he was majority leader.

If the Hoover forces have hit definitely upon a successor to Mr. Curtis as vice president they have guarded the information well. Various names have been suggested from time to time, yet the list grows as the months before the 1932 convention lessen. Perhaps the first to be mentioned was Postmaster-General Walter F. Brown, whose interest in the southern republican reorganization gave rise to the belief that he was looking forward to the nomination; the latest to be put forward is Secretary of War Hurley, of Oklahoma, believed for the moment to be in highest favor.

MAN'S BODY FOUND IN MISSISSIPPI RIVER

NEW ORLEANS, May 11.—(AP)—Wide search for Belton Wetherill, 60-year-old member of a wealthy Philadelphia family, ended today when his body was found floating in the Mississippi river here.

He had been missing since the morning of April 2, when he left his apartment in the Garden district for a routine constitutional.

An inquest by the Orleans coroner showed death to have resulted from drowning. There were no signs of foul play. The coroner said the body had been in the river for several weeks, probably since the day of his disappearance.

The body was identified through cancelled rent notes, a diary and a wallet containing $32.

ACOSTA PRAISES PRINTER'S PLANE

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., May 11.—(AP)—Bert Acosta, who flew across the Atlantic with Rear Admiral Byrd went stunting yesterday in an airplane built by a printer in his back yard. After an hour of rolling, diving and looping, Acosta came down and described the plane "as the best I ever flew."

It was built by Joseph Terle, who learned his aviation from books. He said the tiny wooden monoplane cost him about $1,100.

WOMAN'S APPOINTMENT TO FARM BOARD URGED

Head of American Bankers Association Sees Aid in Female Member.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(Special).—Appointment of a woman to the federal farm board as a means of combatting the feminine fads of diet and dress which he claims are largely responsible for our present surpluses of cotton and wheat is recommended to President Hoover today by Henry Stude, of Chicago, president of the American Bankers Association.

"Mr. Hoover's appeal to women to save cotton and wheat helped America in time of war," Mr. Stude said. "An appeal by President Hoover, expressed through the appointment of a woman on the farm board, might help the serious agricultural situation that exists today."

"The fact is that the foibles of Uncle Sam's daughters are costing our farmers at least $500,000,000 a year. A very large part of the surplus we now have of both cotton and wheat is due to the whims of our women-folk."

"They won't wear cotton and they won't eat bread."

"They have abandoned comfortable cotton for sheer chiffon and whole-some wheat for dangerous diets."

"Cotton is the cheapest clothing. Wheat is the cheapest food. An increased use of both would help our pocket book, our health and our government."

POLAND POSTPONES TREATY OF TRADE

WARSAW, Poland, May 11.—(AP)—A respite in negotiations between Poland and Czechoslovakia for extending their commercial treaty has been declared until after the League of Nations council meeting in Geneva. The visiting delegation started for Prague today.

Although the discussions have not been made public, it is believed that they represent a phase of a counter-movement against the proposed Austro-German customs union.

Woman Spends $150,000 To Remove Mansion

LOS ANGELES, May 11.—(AP)—Mrs. James C. Drake is moving her mansion and landscape at a cost of $150,000.

The house cost only $100,000 when built 20 years ago. The neighborhood has changed since and Mrs. Drake decided to transplant the house and grounds to an exclusive residential district.

Moved five miles in four sections, the stately marble, brick and stone structure already is in place at the new site. Now landscape artists are at work.

Every tree, shrub and vine is to be transplanted, the top soil taken up and relaid. It cost $2,000 to move one tree alone.

MATHER POSTPONES SAILING FOR EUROPE

Cotton Mather, president of Mather Brothers, which firm bought the stock of Phillips & Crew Piano Company at the trustee's sale last Friday, returned by plane to Atlanta Sunday night from New York, where he had gone to sail for a six weeks' tour of Europe, to take charge of the sale.

Accompanied by Mrs. Mather, Mr. Mather was to have sailed Saturday for a brief vacation in Europe and was unaware until six hours before time for his boat to leave that his firm was the successful bidder for the Phillips & Crew stock. He had left word here that he would stay at one hotel and after arriving in New York decided to stop at another.

Flying to Atlanta with Mr. Mather was Joe Dew, manager of the company's group of stores in Florida, who had been in New York buying merchandise for the fall season. The plane left New York Sunday morning about an hour late because of unfavorable weather conditions, according to Mr. Mather, and he quoted the pilots as saying that the flying was unusually rough.

Mr. Mather felt that it was necessary for him to be here to supervise the disposal of the Phillips & Crew stock and postponed his trip to Europe until the sale was completed. He says that the merchandise is "moving fast" and he expects to start on the tour again in about 10 days.

LOCOMOTIVE GRATES IN HOME FURNACE

Lennox Torrid Zone Has Many Features Besides Steel-riveted, Gas-tight Construction

The most durable type of grates in the world are used in the Torrid Zone Warm Air Furnace. They are of the special rocking design as used in locomotives and are controlled from the outside by a long-handled "lazy" shaker. Hardly more effort is required to shake them than is used in brushing the teeth. Any woman can do it—and she could do it in a party dress without fear of dust or dirt because of the unusually tight-fitting doors.

The Torrid Zone is the ideal furnace for the fine residence and is made in types and sizes for homes of every class and for schools, churches, stores and office buildings. There are combination hot water and warm air types and others equipped with electric blowers for large scale operating. ATLANTA, GA., MAY 12, 1931.

ATLANTA'S TIME CASE.

All the advantages claimed by

Atlantians who urge the seasonal adoption of "daylight saving" time would be obtained by recovering the mistake made in 1883 when,

in time-zoning the continent, central standard time was assigned Atlanta instead of eastern standard time. The zoning was done by act of congress on the initiative of the American Railway Association.

This city is on the 90th meridian line which divides the eastern and central time zones. That line allocates eastern time to two-thirds of the state. It prevails in Macon,

Athens, Augusta, Savannah and all other places east of Atlanta. The consequence for 42 years has been confusion between our city schedules of every sort and those that prevail everywhere east of us to the Atlantic ocean.

Being on the mid-line of the zones we are actually as to sun time just half an hour behind true eastern and that much ahead of true central time.

A change of our Atlanta clocks, putting them ahead one hour, would put all our time schedules in complete harmony with those of the entire eastern part of the country, and the time used in that section is far more important to all our local interests than any time computations used to the west of us.

The logical, practical and "daylight saving" year-round thing to do is for Atlanta to officially transfer to the eastern zone and thereby give to our people the benefits of an hour more in the evenings for rest, home duties, recreation and the other uses of leisure.

Those who work in offices, factories and the general industries of the city would undoubtedly welcome and be profited by the change from central to eastern time. It is the common sense practical plan to accommodate all interests—physical, social and domestic.

NATIONAL COTTON WEEK.

"National Cotton Week," promulgated by Secretary of Commerce

Lamont, in conjunction with Secretary of Agriculture Hyde, Cason J.

Callaway, as president of the American Cotton Manufacturers' Association, and George A. Sloan, as president of the Cotton Textile Institute, will be observed by cotton industrialists, cotton growers and cotton consumers, June 1 to 6, inclusive.

That will be a notable endeavor to stimulate popular interest in the facts and the future of the cotton industry of the nation. It is a major industry in which 5,000,000 persons are actively engaged and upon the prosperity of which depends the ample or scant living of more than one-tenth of the national population.

An interest so vital and universal in human needs deserves all the care

HORDE OF BANDITS KILLED IN CHINA

Troops Slay 7,000 Rebels in Past Two Weeks in Central Provinces.

NANKING, China, May 11.—(P)—The nationalist government announced tonight its troops had killed 7,000 bandits in central provinces. Simultaneous with the announcement an incident of rebellion was reported in south China and the government apparently is preparing to send an army to check the movement.

The bandits were killed in the last two weeks by troops operating over a 200 square mile area along the borders of Honan, Hubei and Anhwei provinces. Eight hundred of them were captured, the number including 300 women. The statement said the government lost 1,000 soldiers.

The campaign followed months of communistic and brigand outrages on a large scale along the Yangtze river. Numerous towns have been looted and burned and their populations massacred. Foreign shipping has been frequently fired upon.

The situation in Kwangtung and Kwangsi provinces of south China admittedly is giving the government grave concern, although officials have been guarded in statements concerning their intentions in dealing with the demands of Chen Chi-tang, military governor of Kwangtung, and other leaders that Chiang Kai-shek retire from the presidency of the central government here.

Addressing a conference of government leaders, Chiang Kai-shek said reports indicated Kwangtung and Kwangsi rebels were endeavoring to undermine the loyalty of those provinces. If Chen Chi-tang dared to rebel, Chiang said, "we are prepared to deal with him."

The statement followed many indications the government was planning to dispatch troops into northern Kwangtung to campaign against Governor Chen, who recently was reported assembling 50,000 Kwangtung soldiers to force Chiang's retirement from the government.

A stern message sent by Minister of War Ho Ying-ching to Governor had already rallied to his cause. He was abandoned by his own democratic left group in the senate before M. Briand announced he was in the running.

At a meeting a few hours earlier 70 of 157 members of the democratic left group, the largest in the senate, decided to permit their conferees to select their own candidate on the first ballot and to choose the leading left candidate on the second. It was the strongest move they could in courtesy make against the senate president and in favor of the foreign minister.

Chen ordered him and his associates to remain loyal to Nanking under penalty of having their rebellion crushed as was the uprising in December, 1927, when 3,000 persons were killed and much of Canton was burned.

ONE KILLED, 3 INJURED IN PERUVIAN STRIKE

LIMA, Peru, May 11.—(P)—Police fired on a group of taxicab strikers here today when they tried to burn a bus carrying passengers. One was killed and three injured during the disorders.

The strike has spread to Callao where other workers have joined the movement. Steamship crews unloaded their own cargoes and the customs house was closed. Street cars and railroads there also were affected.

Textile workers in Lima left their jobs today but street cars and buses continued although several of them were stoned. Students joined the movement and the Catholic University engineering school and other minor colleges were deserted.

The director of the Middle Instruction school at Guadalupe asked police for help after the pupils, most of whom are under 18 years of age, proclaimed a strike and yelled noisily at the director and some of the teachers. Police dispersed them with leather belts to the amusement of onlookers.

The junta government issued a communique pointing out that a state of siege still exists in Lima and that a court-martial will prosecute charges of sedition. Those convicted could be sentenced to death.

ITALIAN TRADE TREATY TERMS HELD SECRET

Pact With Austria and Hungary Causes Speculation
in Europe.

ROME, May 11.—(P)—The Italo-Austro-Hungarian three-cornered commercial treaties, which were announced unexpectedly today, were being regarded in political circles tonight as filled with great importance because of their possible bearing on the future of European trade.

No details of the accords were announced, but it was officially stated that their importance was purely commercial.

The declaration that the three-cornered accord was open for participation by other nations led some observers to draw a parallel between these treaties and the Austro-German proposal. But government circles disclaimed any intention to organize a substitute move for the latter accord, which is one of the main problems to come before the League of Nations council at Geneva.

Foreign Minister Grandi left tonight for Geneva, where he will meet with foreign Secretary Arthur Henderson, of Great Britain, to discuss naval and economic questions. In some quarters here it was stressed that the completion of the three-cornered economic pact might have been considered a preliminary maneuver to the Geneva discussions.

It was believed that the Italo-Russian trade agreement, recently renewed, probably served as a basis for the tri-national agreements. Under the Russian treaty the Italian government agreed to guarantee the credits on a large part of the goods sold by Italians to Russia. Under the treaties announced today, however, it was said that all countries would participate in the credits, probably by each caring for its own nationals.

Foreign Minister Grandi had a long conference with Premier Mussolini yesterday, supposedly over the plan for the Italian discussions at Geneva.

MEXICAN BANDITS SHOOT 4 TO DEATH

GOMEZ PALACIO, DURANGO, Mexico, May 11.—(P)—Three men and a woman were lined up against a wall and shot to death by bandits who raided a summer resort at Raymundo, near here, early this morning.

The bandits, believed to be Mexicans recently repatriated from the United States, forced the two proprietors of the resort to hand over the receipts from the previous night's business, then formed a firing squad and executed them, together with the wife of one. A waiter employed in the resort interfered and also was executed. The pianist escaped amid a hail of shots.

Manufacturers Cheer Wales As Prince Tells of Trade Tour

BIRMINGHAM, England, May 11.—(P)—The Prince of Wales, in an address before 1,400 British manufacturers here tonight, offered to "pool" the experience he gleaned in South America with that of the manufacturers in an attempt to restore prosperity to Britain.

It was his first public appearance since his South American tour, and he was given a great ovation as he arrived at the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce to be the principal speaker at a dinner.

"It was a very serious industrial crisis in our country," he said, "that led me to go to South America this winter to study the openings offered us, as manufacturers, in that continent."

"I returned home to find the situation even worse than when I left. I know how hard you have been struggling to overcome these adverse conditions and I want to pool my experiences with yours in an effort to determine how we can keep the place we now hold in South America and how best to prepare to take any advantage of the first signs that the clouds are lifting."

"When and how the clouds will lift we do not know, but it is very important that we be the first in the field when they do."

The prince then related the experiences of his travels and his discussions with South American industrialists, pointing out lessons that might be learned and preparations that may be made by British manufacturers who hope to capture their share of the great southern market.

John A. Dodero, president of the newly-established Argentine Chamber of Commerce at London, responded to the toast "The Development of Anglo-Argentine Trade."

"From my own experience," he said, "I am able to say that in Argentina preference is invariably given articles of British manufacture on equal terms with those from other sources, and in many cases even in the face of lower quotations."

Jose A. Dodero, president of the country, declared that agricultural machinery and airplanes offered further opportunities for British trade.

ENGLISH KING, QUEEN GIVEN GREAT OVATION

LONDON, May 11.—(P)—King George and Queen Mary were given an ovation tonight when they attended the annual royal command performance at the Palladium theater for the benefit of the variety Artists Benevolent Institution.

The entertainment was the one in which Charlie Chaplin had been invited—or "commanded"—to participate. He declined but sent a check instead. The film comedian later said he had received no command from the king, but merely a request from a

Why You Should "Spring-Clean" Your System

House up all winter, without fresh air exercises, and eating too much of the wrong vegetables, allows the system to become all clogged up—stomach, intestines, colon, liver, kidneys and even sweat glands—with poisonous refuse matter which must be cleaned out—your human "flues" unstop—ped—or else you feel slow, sluggish, dizzy, no appetite or energy and sometimes ache in head and joints.

The "human house" should be thoroughly cleaned, just as you do the home, to make it more livable, and this you can best do with Jacobs' Laxative Salt, by simply taking two teaspoonfuls before breakfast for several mornings. After the first dose you feel a pleasant sensation of returning energy and vigor, a clearing up of the head, a natural liver and bowel action—it thoroughly cleans the system of its winter accumulation of toxic poisons—and may be had at any drug store.—(adv.)

PRODUCERS PLEASED WITH CUT IN DIAMONDS

ANTWERP, Belgium, May 11.—(P)—A 50 per cent reduction in the output of diamonds, in effect during the last four months by agreement of diamond producers, has shown satisfactory results, the chairman of the producers group said today. Limitation will be continued until June.

The chairman said that all the diamond producing countries except South Africa had adhered to the limitation decision.

BRAZIL GOVERNMENT BANS GERMAN FILMS

RIO DE JANEIRO, May 11.—(P)—The government today placed a ban on the showing of any productions of the German film company, "Stud film" in retaliation for the exhibition in Berlin of a picture "Der Weg Nach Rio." The latter, the government considered "misleading and offensive" to Brazil.

WHY IS the Gas Company Seeking a Revision of Rates at This Time?

Because the Present Rate—
Adopted as a trial rate*
Simply will not work.

It will not allow the Company to continue the present high standard of service with natural gas.

It will not permit the proper development of the business in step with the progress of the community.

It does not enable the customer to use additional gas at the lowest possible cost.

*In its order of December 9, 1929, fixing the present rate, the George Public Service Commission said:

"The Commission has fixed in this case what it believes to be the proper rate AT THIS TIME . . . if necessary at the end of twelve months, the Commission will revise the rates now prescribed in such manner as will provide reasonable rates on the fair value of the Company's property."

Thus at the time the present rate was fixed it was understood to be only an experimental rate—NOT A PERMANENT RATE—just a trial rate to determine BY ACTUAL EXPERIENCE what a fair rate for natural gas should be.

Conditions as to distribution, heat content and many other things were different from manufactured gas service.

But some sort of a rate had to be fixed, and certainly it was to the advantage of the public to fix a rate too low during the trial period than to fix a rate too high.

Experience revealed beyond any doubt that the present trial rate simply will not work.

Reluctantly, and only after long and careful study, and spurred by absolute necessity in the interest of customers and Company alike, we petitioned the Public Service Commission for an adjustment of rates.

The proposed rates will NOT PROVIDE A REASONABLE RETURN ON THE CAPITAL INVESTED—but, being lower than rates for manufactured gas ever could be, will, we hope, permit us to continue our natural gas service until its wider use** will bring us a reasonable return.

**The new rate proposed will not substantially increase our revenues at this time. It will permit us to continue natural gas service. It will be found so reasonable a rate—so much lower than manufactured gas rates—that we count on its attractiveness plus the service we offer, to induce you to make wider use of the service. We hope that under the new rate the use of gas in increasingly larger amounts will eventually bring a reasonable return on our investment.

Natural gas service is so vital to the development of this community that we want you to have complete and accurate information about the situation. Let's talk things over, honestly and without reservations, and then decide what's to be done.

Your questions will be answered cheerfully.

ATLANTA GAS LIGHT COMPANY,
R. C. HOFFMAN, Jr.,
Vice-President.

PLEASE REMEMBER: The present rate is a trial rate only. . . . Time has shown it to be inadequate. . . . The new rate is proposed only because we cannot continue the present natural gas service under the present rate. . . . The new rate is fair to everyone, works no hardship on any one class of customers. . . . It is lower than the manufactured gas rate could ever be.

This Bank's Attitude Towards Loans

Money that we lend is, in large part, depositors' money; your money. You would not have us lend it haphazardly, without positive assurance that it will be repaid when due.

Yet, with all our sensible consideration, it is interesting to note that THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK acts favorably on the big majority of applications for loans.

Legitimate business concerns, concerns that are fundamentally sound, experience little difficulty in securing loans required for the proper conduct of their affairs.

By Bill Key,
Radio Reporter.
GOOD MORNING, EVERYBODY!
Not having received, at this writing, a reply to my letter to the Main in the Moon, I will substitute herein a few communications from people whose proximity makes it easier for the postal service. I have a letter from a reader who signs himself (or perchance herself) "Just Another Radio Fan," that deals with various comments which have been published concerning several radio artists (if you don't mind my using that word).

"Have been reading your column, and have enjoyed it quite a bit," writes the fan. "First of all, I would like to take up for Amos 'n' Andy and Ted Lewis. Gee whizz! Why can't folks let them alone? There are dozens of other programs out there. Listen to it if they only would. And how many of the people who criticize Amos 'n' Andy have brains to do what they are doing? (A swelling chorus here will kindly rise and shout, "Ouch!")

"I THINK FOLKS who are always arguing about them are only envious, just like the MEN who are jealous of Rudy Vallee's voice. As for the type of music they play, I don't happen to know and I'm not trying to find out, because I haven't the faintest hopes of ever seeing him (but, Gee! I'd sure like to!) (EDITOR'S NOTE: Now I know the writer is a girl! Still, I think he has a wonderful voice and I say, 'Rudy, keep on crooning.'")

"Now for Ted Lewis: I think he is wonderful and so is Wayne King, Husk O'Hare, Ben Bernie and, oh, just dozens of others. So therefore my advice to these folks who like such as Schubert's "Serenade" and "Spring Time," well, just don't listen to their radio announcers, such as Bill Haig?" (His name is Bill Hay, young lady) and she names several others. My suggestion to "Just Another Radio Fan" would be to drop them a little note in care of their respective program, and ask them for a picture. Confidentially, I have a hunch they'd be glad to oblige.

Here I pause to acknowledge, with personal thanks, notes from Mrs. Neva Beers, of College Park; Mrs. Jack Prior, 683 Juniper street, and Marvin G. Russell, 416 Hurt building.

AND NOW I COME to the piece de resistance of today's column, observations of persons printed in this

BY JOHN L. COOLEY

NEW YORK, May 11.—(AP)—Stocks dragged up and down unenthusiastically today.

Professional traders accounted for a large part of the 1,700,000 share turnover, giving the market a dip in the morning and again during the last hour.

Between the two intervals prices managed to hold, paying little attention to sustained rallies in a few individual issues. Net changes were narrow and irregular.

Professional markets contributed most of the day's news. Call loans on the stock exchange renewed at 2 1/2 percent, the lowest rate in nearly 23 years, and as a result there was some withdrawal of funds by lenders to whom the extremely low yield did not appeal.

Money rates were also reduced. There was little or no activity in bankers' acceptances.

Early selling of stocks was directed against two recent weak spots, Johnson & Johnson and American International, and as a result there was some withdrawal of funds by lenders to whom the extremely low yield did not appeal.

Money rates were also reduced. There was little or no activity in bankers' acceptances.

HIGHLIGHTS OF WALL STREET

By CHARLES W. STORM,
Editor, the News Service of Wall Street.

NEW YORK, May 11.—The general stock market again showed resistance today to selling pressure, most issues closing with moderate gains for the session. Early advances ran from 1 to 2 points in the pivotal issues but these weakened in the afternoon due to pressure on General Electric and Union Carbide.

The former closed with a net loss of nearly 2 points. Principal sellers of General Electric and Carbide were houses which have heretofore handled orders for the professional bear.

After early heaviness pressure was relieved on J. I. Case Threshing Machine and that issue closed with a net advance of nearly 2 points for the day. General opinion in the Street seems to be that there will be quiet improvement in the market attended by some irregularity.

Waiting on Europe.
While there are many people who are considering the purchase of stocks, in the belief that prices are the lowest that will be seen, there is a disposition among important interests to wait on Europe and what will develop there with regard to reparation payments and the possibility of a German moratorium.

There is also an inclination on the part of many to wait for publication of earnings statements for the second quarter of this year. While these statements are expected for the most part to show poor earnings, there are a number of concerns which are reporting better business than last year.

Radio Strong.
Continued strength and increased activity occurred in Radio Corporation stock, the issue getting up to a new high price for this movement. The old crowd which originally conducted an intensive advance in Radio during the big boom in the market are understood to be back in the saddle again in that issue.

Accompanying the strength today was a report that some announcement would be made this week relative to the granting of licenses to the Radio Corporation for the use of television.

Motor Shares Strong.
Motor shares continue to show upsurging strength, with General Motors and Auburn Auto favorites. The latter issue advanced 14 points to a new high figure, and insiders are making what might seem like extravagant predictions about its probable future price.

Chain store stocks are doing nothing, but it is known that constructive campaigns are planned in some of these issues just as soon as the general market furnishes signs of being definitely on the upturn.

Chain store stocks continued to be sought, with Woolworth and Kroger Grocers most active. General opinion is that the chain stores will be the first to reflect in sales a change for the better in industry and trade.

Amusement Shares Heavy.
Stocks of amusement companies continued under pressure, with Fox Film showing pronounced weakness and dropping to a new low price for the year.

The Bond Market.
The bond market continued to show a strong undertone, owing to the reduction in the Federal Reserve Bank of New York discount rate.

Reports are also current that the members of the New York Clearing House Association are contemplating the further reduction of interest on daily balances. Such a move is also expected to accelerate the demand for short-term notes and bonds.

PARAMOUNT CUTS
DIVIDEND RATE

NEW YORK, May 11.—(AP)—Directors of Paramount-Public Corporation today reduced the annual dividend rate on the common stock to $2.50 from $4 by declaring a quarterly dividend of 62 1/2 cents payable June 27 to stockholders of record June 5. The $4 annual rate was established in March, 1930, when it was increased from $3.

The dividend declared today is the fifthth consecutive quarterly cash disbursement paid by the company. Adolph Zukor, president, said in a statement that the directors believed their action "prudent and in the best interests of the stockholders" in view of general business conditions.

Chain store stocks continued to be sought, with Woolworth and Kroger Grocers most active. General opinion is that the chain stores will be the first to reflect in sales a change for the better in industry and trade.

Amusement Shares Heavy.
Stocks of amusement companies continued under pressure, with Fox Film showing pronounced weakness and dropping to a new low price for the year.

The Bond Market.
The bond market continued to show a strong undertone, owing to the reduction in the Federal Reserve Bank of New York discount rate.

Reports are also current that the members of the New York Clearing House Association are contemplating the further reduction of interest on daily balances. Such a move is also expected to accelerate the demand for short-term notes and bonds.

Mrs. Kilpatrick Plans Campaign For Horse Show Ticket Sale

Detailed plans for an intensive campaign on advance sale of tickets for the horse show to be staged in Piedmont park May 21, 22 and 23, under the sponsorship of the Young Matrons' Circle for Tallulah Falls school, were launched yesterday afternoon at an enthusiastic meeting presided over by Mrs. Martin Kilpatrick, chairman of general admission tickets for the show, at her home, 2 Collier road.

Serving with Mrs. Kilpatrick on the committee are Mrs. Harry Rogers, Mrs. Homer Reynolds Sanford, Mrs. Sam Worley, Mrs. Morris Hirsch, Miss Sara Law, Miss Elsie Prater, Miss Jane Dillon, Miss Ruth Rowbotham and Miss Boyce Lohy.

Mrs. Bernard Neal, president of the Young Matrons' Circle, and Mrs. W.

Eugene Harrington, general chairman on horse show co-operation, both of whom are working with the ticket committee, attended the meeting.

Tickets are on sale at horse show association headquarters, Room 332, Piedmont hotel, where telephone requests will be handled promptly. Both general admission and box seat tickets for the show can be obtained at headquarters as well as tickets for the benefit dance which the Young Matrons' Circle will give at Piedmont Driving Club Thursday evening, May 21, the opening day of the show.

Requests for box seats are being made rapidly and nearly a hundred boxes have been sold already. There are scores of choice boxes still to be had for the season.

Golden Rule O. E. S.

The chapter will agree to give 50 per cent on the dollar to other chapters and organizations for all tickets sold by them.

Tickets are secured by telephoning Mrs. Young, Main 0036 or Walnut 1420. Admission will be 25 cents for adults, and for children under 12 years of age will be 10 cents. The public is cordially invited to attend.

IT COSTS NOTHING TO HAVE YOUR CHARIS INDIVIDUALLY FITTED

THE smart, new dresses, in which the contours of your figure are clearly outlined, have placed a tremendous premium upon the correctly fitted foundation garment.

CHARIS has always recognized—and emphasized—the importance of perfect fit. We maintain an elaborate fitting department, solely to make certain that each of our customers receives the correct model and size and that the garment is properly fitted to her figure.

There is no extra charge for this service. We consider it a necessity in order to insure permanent satisfaction—even from so fine a garment as CHARIS.

This is just one of many reasons why it is important to secure a genuine CHARIS. If you would like to hear the whole, amazing story of what CHARIS can do for your figure, please write or phone the address below.

You may purchase a Charis from $6.95 up. The garment illustrated is priced at $9.50.

Mrs. C. E. McCarty will entertain the Kle Club with a spend-the-day party Wednesday, May 13, at her home, 100 Central avenue, S. E. All members are invited.

CROWLEY, DURINGER WILL FIGHT CHARGES

NEW YORK, May 11.—(AP)—Attorneys appointed by the courts began today to map out the campaigns the law requires them to make to save Francis Crowley and Rudolph Duringer from the electric chair.

Although both men have confessed the murders with which they are charged, and Crowley has expressed a desire to "get it over with quick," the New York state law will not permit a man to plead guilty to first degree murder, the penalty for which is death.

Crowley, it was said, wanted to plead guilty.

Duringer's trial, for the killing of Virginia Brannan, dance hall hostess, has been tentatively set in the Bronx for next Friday and District Attorney Edwards at Mineola, L. I., hopes to bring Crowley to trial next Monday, May 18, for the killing of Patrolman Hirsch at North Merrick less than a week ago.

Charles R. Weeks has been appointed to defend Crowley and Walter A. Lynch, a former New York city magistrate, today took over the defense of Duringer at the request of Justice Albert Connors. Both trials may be postponed if defense counsel feel they have not had enough time to prepare their cases.

At Ossining, Sing Sing prison attaches, concerning Crowley's remark that he wished to be sent to the chair quickly, pointed out that by waiving his right to an appeal he could take a short cut to the death house. While many lawyers have boasted that they were unafraid of the chair, it was said, not one of them ever has waved the right to appeal.

BEAUTY FASHIONS

7176. Printed chiffon in red and white is here combined with white organza of which the vestee and ruffles are made. Graceful shaping is achieved in the joining of the yoke to the skirt, which flares in animated fullness. The ruffles may be omitted, and the sleeve finished in wrist length. Handkerchief linen, or eyelet embroidery would be nice for this model. Printed silk is also suggested. Designed in 3 sizes: 16, 18, and 20 years. To make this style in an 18-year size will require 4-1/4 yards of 35-inch material if made with long sleeves. With long sleeves and without ruffles 3-1/4 yards will be required. Vestee, belt and ruffles of contrasting material will require 7-8 yards 35 inches wide cut crosswise. The ruffles of finished ruffing will require 1-7/8 yards. Width of the dress at the lower edge with fullness extended is 3 yards.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10c in silver or stamps.

ADAMS 'JOINS' NAVY FOR PACIFIC DISPLAY

SAN PEDRO, Cal., May 11.—(AP)—Secretary of Navy Charles Francis Adams today boarded the U. S. S. Texas, flagship of the United States fleet, prepared to view for the first time the most spectacular maneuver of the armada under his command—force firing.

The Texas and eight other super-dreadnaughts, accompanied by two airplane carriers, a quincunx of large V-type submarines and 20 destroyers will steam out of the naval base here early tomorrow to descend upon an imaginary foe.

Secretary Adams was greeted by a gun salute from the Texas at 8 a. m. today. At 10 a. m. Admiral John V. Chase, commander of the United States fleet and his staff, including Admiral Frank H. Schofield, battle force commander, and Vice Admiral Richard H. Leigh, commander of the battleship battle fleet, gathered at the flagship for a brief conference.

The force firing, which will take place tomorrow, a wishy permit, will call into action for the first time the carriers U. S. S. Lexington and U. S. S. Saratoga as well as the large submarine force.

With the submarines and more than 200 airplanes detailed to reconnoiter the region near San Nicholas Island, 60 miles off shore, the nine super-dreadnaughts will advance in a series of moving targets in battle formation.

When the targets are sighted on the horizon the nine battleships will turn loose their 100 or more 14 and 16-inch guns, while the two squadrons of destroyers stimulate an enemy attack with dummy torpedoes.

The force firing, which will take place tomorrow, a wishy permit, will call into action for the first time the carriers U. S. S. Lexington and U. S. S. Saratoga as well as the large submarine force.

With the submarines and more than 200 airplanes detailed to reconnoiter the region near San Nicholas Island, 60 miles off shore, the nine super-dreadnaughts will advance in a series of moving targets in battle formation.

When the targets are sighted on the horizon the nine battleships will turn loose their 100 or more 14 and 16-inch guns, while the two squadrons of destroyers stimulate an enemy attack with dummy torpedoes.

Siamese Royalty 'Regular Folks,' Small Boy Finds

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., May 11.—(AP)—Edward Murphy, 16-year-old White Plains youth, is hob-nobbing with Siamese royalty these days, and likes it.

Murphy, courier to King Prajadhipok and Queen Rambhadrabati at Ophir Hall, says "it's a big adventure, just like a trip to Siam."

The first morning he was whisked up to Ophir Hall in a liveried limousine he said he was scared because he thought the king would be on a throne but everything was Americanized.

"Siamese don't understand the value of American money very well," young Murphy asserted. "They carry large rolls of money loose in their pockets and send too much for what they want to buy."

"They are always in a good humor, joking and smiling all the time. They are happy people. Their sense of humor must be the reason."

"Do I like the palace? Sure I do. The food is swell."

Edward believes the United States will hear more about Siam in the future because, he said, the king received such a "swell" reception and "he'll try to give Americans visiting Siam a better time than they gave him."

22 ARE INDICTED IN LIQUOR PROBE

PENSACOLA, Fla., May 11.—(AP)—Twenty-two men were indicted by a federal grand jury here today in connection with an alleged gigantic liquor smuggling ring operating from New Orleans to Miami.

Federal agents said the indictments grew out of the capture in Perdido bay, west of here, a year ago of the motor boat "Coca-Cola" with a cargo of liquor, aboard valued at $150,000. No one was aboard the boat, which was hidden in a clump of brush when seized.

George Earl Hoffman, United States assistant attorney, said the men involved in the case are members of a syndicate that was in New Orleans April 11 when a radio station was seized.

Eight men have been arrested, Hoffman said, but the names of only four were revealed. They are Jared S. Kenyon, under arrest at Miami; James Burnett and Lamson Harman, Panama City, under bond there; William Boyd, Apalachicola, also under bond.

Hoffman said the liquor found aboard the craft had been brought from Cuba. It was destroyed last July 4, he said.

TEACHER IS FOUND SLAIN IN HOME

HOOXIE, Ark., May 11.—(AP)—Mrs. Brooks Downing, 22, a high school teacher here and member of a prominent Fayetteville (Ark.) family, died of a pistol wound which her husband said she inflicted at their home here early today.

Mr. Downing, an express company employee and another man, were in the house when he heard the shot. Thinking it was a gas explosion, he rushed into her room and found her dying.

Mrs. Downing, formerly Miss Caroline Dunn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Dunn, of Fayetteville, suffered a nervous breakdown two years ago from which she had not entirely recovered, her husband said.

She was a graduate of the University of Arkansas. She has a brother and a sister attending the university and another brother, Bolen Dunn, is an instructor at Yale. Her grandfather, B. J. Dunn, was an instructor at Ouchita College and also at the University of Arkansas.

EARLY TAX PAYMENTS AID FLORIDA SCHOOLS

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., May 11.—(AP)—Scott M. Loftin, vice president and general counsel for the Flagler system, operators of the Florida East Coast railway and hotels, today announced that he had paid up today his school taxes in advance this year in order that schools in his territory may benefit.

To that end vouchers totaling $316,304.45 are being mailed to the various counties along the east coast, Loftin said, despite the fact that the taxes, under recent legislative act, are not due until June 15.

In this manner school teachers along the east coast of the state, will receive their salaries for the year, and the school system will not be forced to close before the end of the regular term, Loftin said.

ADAMS 'JOINS' NAVY FOR PACIFIC DISPLAY

SAN PEDRO, Cal., May 11.—(AP)—Secretary of Navy Charles Francis Adams today boarded the U. S. S. Texas, flagship of the United States fleet, prepared to view for the first time the most spectacular maneuver of the armada under his command—force firing.

The Texas and eight other super-dreadnaughts, accompanied by two airplane carriers, a quincunx of large V-type submarines and 20 destroyers will steam out of the naval base here early tomorrow to descend upon an imaginary foe.

Sheppard-Connors Betrothal Announced in Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 11.—The engagement of Miss Elizabeth Sheppard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick John Sheppard, and Morton Lochrane Connors, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Connors, which is formally announced today, promises an important wedding event in June and it is one that carries interest in many cities where the families of these young people are widely connected.

Miss Sheppard received her preparatory education at Science Hill, in Kentucky. She is a graduate of Smith College in Northampton, Mass., and since her formal presentation to society has been numbered among the most interesting young women of the city. She is a member of the Spinners of the Junior League, the American Association of University Women, and the first great corporation lawyer in the south.

His paternal family includes the prominent names of the Austins, Hays, and Connors of Greenville, S. C.

Morton Connors was named for his great-granduncle, John Morton, of Edinburgh, Scotland, and is the grandson of the late George W. Connors, the latter a charming type of the old south and the former one time chief justice of the supreme court of Georgia.

His mother is one of the most charming women in southern society and the Connors home on Crest road has long been noted for the charm of its hospitality.

Burgess Children's Stories

SOMEONE AT HOME.

By Thornton W. Burgess.

To say the least it is most rude where not invited to intrude.

Very early every morning Farmer Brown's Boy and Flip the Terrier were out to see what they could find in this desert land which to them was a strange. Later in the day it would be too late to move about. The curious giant cactus plants were a source of much interest to Farmer Brown's Boy, more so since he had discovered Cactus Bill the Flicker making a home high up in one. After that discovery Farmer Brown's Boy looked for holes in every one of these plants he saw and he was surprised to find how many had holes. He discovered a cousin of Cactus Bill's, known as the Gila Woodpecker, leaving a hole, and suspected that he had made that hole and had a nest there, and in this he was right.

The more he saw of these holes the more he wanted to examine some of them. It was provoking to see one perhaps no more than twenty feet above his head, and not be able to get to it. But it would have been just as foolish to try to climb them as to try to climb one of those spiny-cactus plants, even had there been branches low enough for him to reach.

"I suppose those eggs of that Flicker are white and look about the same as the eggs of Yellow Wing at home," said Farmer Brown's Boy as he looked up at one of those holes. "It is just because I can't get to them to see them and examine them that I always want the thing we can't have."

Flip the Terrier looked up at his master and grinned while at the same time he panted for breath. He knew just how Farmer Brown's Boy felt. He had just learned that he had a chance in the world of catching Antelope Jack, the big long-legged cousin of Peter Rabbit, and couldn't resist the temptation to chase him every time he saw him.

But if Flip couldn't catch Antelope Jack, his master was to have his wish gratified. He discovered a hole not so high as the others he had seen and he remembered that at the ranch where he was staying on the edge of the desert, he had seen two ladders, which could be lashed together. He borrowed a car and with the two ladders lashed to the side of it he returned to the big cactus in which he had discovered the lowest hole he had yet found. Cactus Tom came with him and he raised the long ladder made by lashing the two together. It was just long enough and no more.

Flip looked on, barking excitedly. Farmer Brown's Boy went up until he could reach that hole. He thought it probably empty, but he meant to have the satisfaction of finding out. He had seen no bird in or near that hole since finding it, so he had no expectation of finding anything inside. He would, however, be able to find out what one was like inside and this was his real purpose.

It all he could do to squeeze his hand through the opening. Once it was in he felt of the wall and was surprised to find how hard it was. Then he reached down to find out how deep it was. The tips of his fingers touched feathers, and then Farmer Brown's Boy let out a yell that caused Cousin Tom to grin.

"There must be someone at home," said he, and grinning again as Farmer Brown's Boy, forgetting where he was, clutched at the prickly cactus with his free hand as he tried to withdraw his other hand. This brought forth another yell, whereat Flip began to bark.

"Duch!" cried Farmer Brown's Boy ruefully as he tried to withdraw his hand from that hole. "Someone at home is right, and that someone apparently doesn't intend to let me go."

"Steady there!" cried Cousin Tom. "If you dance about on that ladder more you'll get in worse trouble than you are now. Have you got hold of whoever it is in there?"

"No. Whoever it is has got hold of me, and believe me, it hurts," replied Farmer Brown's Boy.

Cousin Tom unfeelingly chuckled. "Serves you right for intruding where you wasn't invited and wasn't wanted," said he.

The next story: "A Plucky Midgit."

STYLES BY ANNETTE

JACKET ENSEMBLE HAS DEFINITE PLACE.

This model is especially desirable because of its simple good taste and tailored sports character.

It can be carried out in all one material or in striking contrast as sketched. It's a very pleasing combination. The sleeveless dress is one of those lovely shadow pleated silk crepes in brown and white. The jacket is chartreuse green wool crepe.

A skipper blue linen dotted in white with white flannel jacket is exceedingly sporty for summer. Style No. 315 is designed for sizes 16, 18, 20 years, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust. Size 36 requires 3-3/4 yards of 39-inch material for dress with 2-1/8 yards of 39-inch material for jacket and a leather belt.

Shantung, cotton mesh, jersey and many rayons make up nicely in this model. Our large fashion magazine shows the latest Paris styles for spring and summer for adults and children. Also instructive lessons in sewing. Price of book 10 cents. Price of pattern 15 cents in stamps or coin. Wrap coin carefully.

All members are urged to be present as final reports on work accomplished during the past year will be read.

Junior League Jottings

MRS. REGINALD FLEET, Editor

The closing meeting of the Atlanta Junior League for the year 1930-1931 will be held on Tuesday, May 26, instead of June 2. This change has been made to enable many of the members who have planned vacations in the early part of June to attend the last meeting.

Miss Margaret Nelson originated the delightful custom of having the last meeting in the form of a luncheon the year she was president of the league. This will be the third annual luncheon and its popularity as a custom will continue no doubt during the regimes of many presidents. Mrs. Clark Howell, Jr., will preside at the luncheon, at the close of which she will relinquish the office to Mrs. Robert Foreman, Jr., the incoming president.

Mrs. Claude McGinnis is the chairman of the luncheon committee. The luncheon will be held at the Piedmont Driving Club. McGinnis and her committee are formulating the plans for a most delightful affair.

The performance of the Junior League Marionettes on Saturday at the Buckhead theater marked the close of a most interesting and successful year for this group. In November a performance of three plays based on the "Uncle Remus" stories was given at the Buckhead theater. The three plays were "Brer Rabbit and the Tar Baby," "Mr. Wolf's Plan That Failed" and "Sis Cow and the 'Simmon Tree.'" In December these plays were presented at Edgewood Hall, in January, under the sponsorship of the Spring Street Parent-Teacher Association, the Marionettes presented the "Uncle Remus" plays at Spring Street school. In February a performance was given at the Goldsmith school. In the same month the plays were given for a large group of colored children under the sponsorship of the Junior Red Cross. For these two performances the Marionettes gave their services free of any charge.

In March the Marionettes did their first trouping when they went to Canton under the sponsorship of the Canton Parent-Teacher Association. The "Uncle Remus" plays and "Jack and the Beanstalk" were given at this time. In April the Marionettes went on another tour, to Macon, where they were presented by the Utility Club of that city. On last Saturday a new play and an old favorite were given at the Buckhead theater, "Hansel and Gretel" and "Cinderella." A large group of children enjoyed the plays. This enthusiastic group of puppeteers are already making interesting plans for the development of the Marionettes in the coming year.

Junior League members are serving as hostesses at Rich's tea room each day. On Monday Miss Hannah Struss and Mrs. Duncan Owens served as hostesses. On Tuesday Miss Boyce Loke and Miss Sara McSausure will be the hostesses; on Wednesday Mrs. Keith Quarterman and Mrs. Henry Forcher; on Thursday Miss Augusta Porter and Miss Palmer Dallis; on Friday Mrs. Hopper Bennett and Mrs. Foster Hume, Jr.; and on Saturday Miss Lena Knox and Mrs. Charles Hicks. Mrs. Norman O'Leary has been the chairman of the work at Rich's tea room for the past year and has been eminently successful in this work.

Region IV of the Association of Junior Leagues was most interested in the news of the birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Fokett Brown, of Nashville. Mrs. Brown is a former president of the Association of Junior Leagues and a leader in Region IV. A silver porringer was sent to the new baby, Frances Dudley Brown, as a gift from this region.

Mrs. Anne Bates Walsh will entertain at an al fresco tea Wednesday afternoon, May 13, at her home, 1578 North Decatur road, between Springdale and Briarcliff roads in Druid Hills, in honor of the newly elected officers of Mrs. Alonzo Richardson's Sunday school class of St. Mark's Methodist church and Mrs. Richardson. Mrs. Walsh, who is a valued member of the class, will be assisted in receiving by the honor guests and she extends a cordial invitation to members of the class to call between 4 and 6 o'clock. The newly-elected officers include Mrs. John C. Orr, president; Mrs. Anne Bates Walsh, first vice president; Mrs. Clifford Dawson, second vice president; Mrs. Charles A. Verlin, secretary; Mrs. Frank Reynolds and Miss Mary Fulks, assistant secretaries; Mrs. Leo Spencer, treasurer; Mrs. Edith Mays, assistant treasurer.

Atlantans To Attend Meeting Of Garden Club of America

A group of prominent Atlanta matrons, who are leaders in the local garden club movement, leave Saturday for Glen Cove, L. I., to attend the annual meeting of the Garden Club of America, beginning Monday, May 18, and continuing through Friday, May 22. The group is headed by Mrs. Robert L. Cooney, president of the Peachtree Garden Club, and Mrs. Albert Thornton, Jr., delegate from the Peachtree club, and in addition includes Mesdames Malcolm Fleming, Cam Dorsey, Bulow Campbell, Robert F. Maddox, William P. Hill, C. V. Rainwater and James D. Robinson.

Headquarters for the meeting will be established at the Pennsylvania hotel in New York city, and the visitors will motor to Long Island for the daily sessions. The North Country Garden Club, with Mrs. Harold Irving Pratt as president, will act as the hostess organization to the meeting. The meeting will open Tuesday morning, after which the visitors will be entertained in groups at luncheon in neighboring homes of garden club members Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Pratt, president of the hostess club, will entertain the visitors at dinner at her home, Welwyn, which with its beautiful gardens, is one of the show places of Glen Cove.

On Wednesday Mrs. Cooney as president and Mrs. Thornton as delegate from the Peachtree Garden Club will attend the presidents' council which meets at the Piping Rock Golf Club and where they will be entertained at dinner. Other visitors who do not attend the council will be entertained at dinner in nearby homes, and during the evening the entire delegation will be guests at an elaborate reception to be given at "Harbour Hill," the palatial estate of Clarence Mackay at Roslyn, L. I.

Among the interesting features of the meeting will be tours of a number of Long Island's most beautiful gardens some of which are widely known among the handsomest in this country.

A special floor has been reserved at the Pennsylvania hotel for the comfort and convenience of the delegates to the meeting.

A risk no woman should take

health risk in ill-made substitutes for Kotex

NO woman should deliberately risk health by using a sanitary pad of doubtful hygienic value. Yet that is what you do, if you accept a substitute because it merely looks like Kotex.

You should ask how this substitute was made. Where? By whom? Would a hospital use it? Trust no pad that cannot answer these questions to your entire satisfaction. Every woman, at these times, needs the purity of Kotex. Its absolute immaculacy. Kotex is made with hospital care. Its use in hospitals proves that. This assurance is worth everything to you—far more than the few pennies you may save by accepting a substitute of whose makers you know nothing.

Kotex is adjustable. Soft. May be worn on either side with safety.

GEORGIA ELKS OPEN ANNUAL CONFERENCE

Series of Entertainments Mark First Day's Program in Athens.

ATHENS, Ga., May 11.—(AP)—Georgia Elks Monday began a two-day convention with a series of entertainments and inspirational addresses on the program.

Baseball games, a Dutch supper, a banquet in honor of grand lodge and state officers past and present, a barbecue, parade and a grand ball were a part of the entertainment planned to attract delegates and visitors.

M. G. Michael, a member of the host lodge since its organization 29 years ago, delivered the opening address at the Colonial theater. He pointed out that today is the birthday of the Athens lodge, No. 790, and that there are 1,588 lodges in the United States today. Mr. Michael is a past district deputy grand exalted ruler.

His address was followed by a speech by Walter Andrews, past grand exalted ruler of the United States, and Robert S. Barrett, of Alexandria, Va., chairman of the committee on the good of the order. Mr. Barrett also spoke at the banquet tonight.

Election of officers and a parade bringing the convention to a close Tuesday, John S. McClellan, of Atlanta, chairman of the forum of justice, is to speak Tuesday.

A memorial service to Elks who have died since the last convention followed tonight's grand ball. Ben Fowler, of Macon, was in charge of the service. I. G. Ehrlich, of Albany, president of the association, is presiding.

Negro Demonstration Delays Augusta Court

AUGUSTA, Ga., May 11.—(AP)—Recorder's court was delayed 15 minutes Monday when 50 members of a "happiness" demonstration during their trial on charges of disorderly conduct.

Dismissing the cases, Judge Berry Ellison ordered officers to steer the shouting, whirling crowd into the street. There the demonstration continued.

During the excitement, Colonel R. L. Chambers, attorney, was struck in the eye; Policeman A. A. Kennedy was hit in the face and two worshippers were slightly injured when they danced against an iron post.

Police arrested the group Sunday night when members left their church and entered a residential district where neighbors complained.

SOUTH GEORGIA FARMS DAMAGED BY STORMS

THOMASVILLE, Ga., May 11.—Reports were received here Monday of damage Sunday in outlying districts of Thomas county from wind and hail. At Coolidge, 14 miles north of here, the Methodist church was blown from its foundations; a house on the W. A. Jones place was picked up and carried 50 feet, and a barn there was blown away and pieces of it scattered over the landscape for a quarter of a mile.

Roofs were blown off houses and galvanized roofing in various spots blown into trees and wrapped around their trunks. The steeple was blown from a negro church and eight or ten small dwellings were torn down. A negro woman was severely injured in Jimtown, Ga., where a badly damaged lockwood district, a cyclonic wind blew down the dwelling house of Mrs. E. Cooper and damaged crops on the Cooper farm and other farms in that vicinity.

The Cooper home was a four-room log house, which stood for more than a half century. The hall stoves were of great size, and badly damaged growing crops of corn, cotton and tobacco. The steeple was shattered from the Christian church located a few miles west of Ocklockee.

YOUTHS FACE TRIAL IN NEGRO MURDER

WAYCROSS, Ga., May 11.—(AP)—J. D. Collier and Thurman Davis, alleged youthful slayers of Tom Demery, negro night watchman of the Enterprise Manufacturing Company, of this city, will face trial on a charge of murder during the present term of Ware county superior court.

Colley, giving his age as 17, and Davis, 19, hid in a swamp near Waycross and eluded a large searching party for 12 hours before they were captured in March. The fatal shooting of the night watchman having occurred on the night of March 23.

At the first denying any connection with the shooting affair, but admitting breaking into the Smith-Gibson hardware store where they stole guns, ammunition, electric flashlights and other merchandise, the youths were confronted with identification by eye witnesses to the shooting. They later made a clean breast of the whole affair.

They were indicted several days ago by a Ware county grand jury. It is probable that the case will be called Tuesday morning.

MRS. WILLIAM T. PACE, OF SMYRNA, PASSES

SMYRNA, Ga., May 11.—Mrs. William Tatum Pace, wife of the legislator from Cobb county, died at the Crawford W. Long Memorial hospital in Atlanta Monday morning following a long illness.

Mr. Pace also was in the Atlanta hospital at the time his wife's death recuperating from a major operation. Attending physicians reported that his condition was fair late today.

Mrs. Pace was widely known in Cobb county and was a member of a pioneer family. She was 59 years of age.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Pace is survived by three daughters, Mrs. H. D. Williamson, Mrs. J. K. Pruitt, of Smyrna, and Mrs. J. S. Thompson, of Atlanta, and a son, J. S. Pace, of Marietta. Funeral services will be conducted at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon from the Smyrna Baptist church and interment will be in the Smyrna cemetery.

CORA HAZEN TRIAL STAYED AT WAYCROSS

WAYCROSS, Ga., May 11.—(AP)—Cora Hazen, charged with the murder of Mrs. Jim Parker, the bodies of Mrs. Parker and her child having been uncovered in a pea field near here several months ago, will not face trial until the Georgia supreme court has acted on an appeal from Jim Parker, convicted of the child's murder, it was revealed here Monday by Solicitor-General Allen B. Spence.

When the case was called in Ware county superior court, Solicitor Spence announced that he would hold the Hazen case for later trial. The Parker case was argued before the state supreme court on March 4.

Mrs. Hazen, a resident of Waycross, was acquitted by a Ware county jury when she was tried for killing the Parker child, her trial having been set in motion immediately after Parker had been convicted and sentenced to die in the electric chair for the child murder.

It has been the contention of the state that Parker and his sweetheart, Cora Hazen, conspired and murdered Parker's wife to "get her out of the way" and that the child was killed to cover up the first crime.

The crime is alleged to have been committed shortly after Parker and the Hazen woman moved here from Florida as man and wife, the real Mrs. Parker following them to this city.

John Vincent, Macon, Appointed Mukden, Manchuria Consul General

MACON, Ga., May 11.—(AP)—John Carter Vincent, of Macon, who entered the consular services at Changsha, China, in 1924, has been appointed to take the place of the consul general at Mukden, Manchuria, battle area of war-ravaged China, during his absence on home leave, it was learned here today.

Mr. Vincent, only 30 years of age, has spent all of his time since graduation from Mercer University in 1923 in China. He was recently married to Mrs. Elizabeth Thayer Spence, young American residing in Peking.

The wedding plans had been kept a secret, their ceremony taking place March 28 at the consulate in Tsinan, China, where Mr. Vincent was then stationed.

Immediately upon the arrival of the bride-to-be from a flying trip to the United States. She returned through Russia by way of the trans-Siberian railway.

Dr. Stanley, head of the college of the Shantung Christian University, performed the ceremony with Mr. Stanley and Vice Consul Blake, of the consulate, witnesses. Members of the foreign community were invited to a reception which followed, at which the bride was presented. Among those attending were Mrs. Reuben A. Torrey, the former Miss Janet Mallory, of Macon, and Dr. Torrey.

Consul and Mrs. Vincent will return to the United States this fall and will visit the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Vincent.

Hamilton, of the Augusta Chronicle, chairman.

The local committee is co-operating with the Polish embassy at Washington and the president of the country and the president of the United States, ranking officers of the army and navy and members of the president's cabinet will be invited here for the celebration, November 14.

The other members of the Augusta committee are: W. A. Lufburrow, of the Augusta Herald, secretary; Mayor W. D. Jennings, former Mayor W. B. Bell and President M. H. H. Duval, of the chamber of commerce.

Mrs. Fitzsimmons, president of the Polish committee, died in March, attended by V. Podolski, first secretary of the Polish embassy at Washington, Dr. Francis E. Frome, executive director of the Polish committee, and Nathaniel Spear, Jr., of Pittsburgh, Pa., state commander of the American Legion, it was decided to erect a memorial to Dr. Ewe.

The memorial is to be placed on Greene street, one of the city's main thoroughfares, and in front of Dr. Ewe's old home. The block will be named Ewe square if city council follows the recommendations of the local committee.

On the memorial will be a tablet from the Polish government and presented by the Polish ambassador at Washington.

Dr. Ewe was a medical student in Paris when the war for Polish liberty began and he gave his services to the Poles, serving throughout the two-year conflict.

Dr. Ewe returned to Augusta to make his home at the close of the Polish fight for freedom which they lost. He served as a surgeon in the Confederate army during the war between the States, afterward moving to Nashville. He was elected president of the American Medical Association while at Nashville. He died in 1877.

The Augusta committee was told by the visiting delegation that Polish-American societies throughout the country have been memorializing Dr. Ewe during the past year, the 100th anniversary of the war with Russia.

PUBLIC AFFAIRS GROUP WILL CONVENE TODAY

ATHENS, Ga., May 11.—(AP)—Georgia's constitution will undergo a microscopic examination by some of the state's leading professional men at the spring session of the institute of public affairs of the University of Georgia here Tuesday.

Judge Orville A. Park, of Macon, chairman of the institute's committee on constitutional revision, will give a summary of the committee's work during the past year, and others who have studied the state closely in recent years will join in a discussion.

A round table discussion is on the institute's agenda, and those attending the meeting, which is to be open to the public, are to be invited to participate in the open forum.

R. L. Lawton, Jr., of Savannah, will discuss the bill of rights. Howell C. Cone, of Statesboro, and Robert M. Hite, of Savannah, also will speak.

From 3:30 to 5:30 o'clock the discussion will revolve about the legislative department and other phases of government. The session will close at 8 o'clock.

Joining in discussion of the franchise and the legislative department will be J. M. Hall, Augusta; J. B. Cumming, Augusta; Marion Smith, Atlanta; William Schley Howard, Atlanta, and Henry A. Benham, Augusta.

At 8:15 p. m. tomorrow there will be a reception at Memorial hall to members of the constitutional revision committee.

Moultrie Purchases Generating Plant

MOULTRIE, Ga., May 11.—(AP)—The city of Moultrie has purchased from the Georgia Power Company a Diesel-engine power generating plant for use in the event the city's present electricity distribution system fails.

Moultrie's electricity distribution system is municipally-owned and is operated by a steam plant.

With the purchase of the Diesel plant, the city contracted with the Georgia Power Company to continue the purchase of electrical energy from the company, brought here by the company's high-tension lines.

The contract, which is to run for five years, specifies, however, that in the event the Diesel plant is brought into operation because of any emergency, the power company will buy back all surplus power over the city's actual consumption.

The purchase price was $40,000, and the city will pay $40,000 for the plant. The city will have the plant by May 15, when voters would have to be called on the purchase of a new $80,000 generating plant.

City council announced there was a clause in the contract whereby a clause in the contract whereby it may be abrogated at the end of any councilmanic year at the will of either party.

State Health Train Stops in Uvalda

UVALDA, Ga., May 11.—(AP)—The state board of health train, "The Hygienian," arrived here Monday on its tour of the state with exhibits teaching the lessons of health and hygiene.

The train spent the week-end at Statesboro and Midville, where several hundred persons viewed the cars and heard addresses by Dr. M. E. Winchester, director of county health work of the state board of health, and Dr. Allen H. Buncer, of Atlanta, trustee of the American Medical Association and secretary of the Medical Association of Georgia. Statesboro is the native city of Dr. Buncer.

The largest attendance last week was at Swainsboro, where a holiday was declared in the county schools and 10,000 children viewed the train. Monday night "The Hygienian" went to Vidalia, Toombs county, and Tuesday will go to Hazlehurst. The tour ends next Monday night at Valdosta.

Masons at Savannah Plan Joint Meeting

SAVANNAH, Ga., May 11.—(AP)—The six local Masonic lodges Sunday revealed plans for a joint communication to be held in the municipal auditorium Friday evening at 8 o'clock. Invitations have been extended to every lodge in the first Masonic district, and many have signified their intention of sending a large number of Masons.

Valdosta Boy Wins Naval Reserve Medal

John Winn, of Valdosta, senior in the naval reserve unit at Georgia Tech, will be awarded a gold medal as the most outstanding student officer in the unit at the final review, to be staged at 11 o'clock Thursday morning at Grand field.

The medal, offered annually since 1927, will be presented by the General John H. Floyd chapter, United Daughters of 1812. It was established by Mrs. Clarence Decker Tebo and the donor this year will be Mrs. Frances E. Brownell.

Another award, a silver cup donated by the navy department, bureau of navigation, will be presented to the platoon holding the highest score during the year in drill competition. The company winning the drill competition at the review will be awarded the battalion colors.

Those attending the review will include college officials, officers of the United Daughters of 1812, sponsors of companies and platoons, and friends of unit members. The public is invited.

Noted Blind Teacher Re-Elected at Winder

WINDER, Ga., May 11.—W. E. Cooper, noted blind teacher of music here, has been re-elected for his twenty-second year as director of the high school orchestra and general teacher of music in the high school by the Winder board of education.

Mr. Cooper has made a remarkable record as instructor of music since his graduation from the Georgia Academy for the Blind. He was a pupil of the late E. H. McNeil.

He came to the Winder High school when there was scarcely enough students to make a course in music feasible and has since witnessed the growth of this department to where today the full time of two music instructors is required.

Committee Inspects Prison Farm Sites

AMERICUS, Ga., May 11.—Members of the state prison farm committee of the Georgia general assembly visited four sites offered for the new penal institution in Sumter county Monday.

Following inspection of the several sites offered here Judge Vivian Stanley, of Dublin, chairman of the committee, stated no site had yet been definitely decided upon. It will be the duty of the committee, he added, to visit each of the sites offered the state, where these are considered available by the committee, before taking action looking toward location of the new state prison farm.

Leaders of Sumter county interested in bringing the institution here were hosts to the committee members at the farm of Mrs. Mary Clay, where a barbecue was served.

The committee has accepted an invitation to visit Dawson and inspect at least one site offered in Terrell county Tuesday. The group also has been asked to visit Neyami, in Lee county, where Lynn Bell, of Americus, and Neyami, has several thousand acres, he is offering the committee as a location.

Barbecues have been prepared for members of the committee at both Dawson and Neyami. Judge Stanley said the committee planned to hold no hearings, although several residents of Sumter and other counties were here Monday to present their views relative to locating the farm in their respective communities.

Now Lose Fat a Pound a Day on a Full Stomach

Do Just These Two Simple Things—Fat Melts Away

NO tiring exercise, no starvation. Instead, a full stomach and never a hungry moment. Yet fat melts away. You can easily lose four to seven pounds a week, see the coarse lines of fat replaced by the refined lines of slenderness—and feel better than you ever felt before in your life.

WHAT YOU DO

There are just two simple things you do: Clean your system and keep it clear of waste matter, toxins and depleting poisons with ordinary JAD SALTS obtainable at any drug store. Start with a teaspoonful in a full glass of water tomorrow morning—a sparkling and pleasant drink.

Then EAT YOUR FILL—as much as your appetite can stand—of meals consisting of the following foods:

At breakfast eat two oranges, or the juice of two oranges. Eat also a dash of salt, or a whole wheat bran bread. Eat rolled oats (with milk, not cream.)

At lunch eat a good size piece of lean meat, then see how much spinach, lettuce, sauerkraut, boiled cabbage, green peas, broccoli or fresh turnips you can eat. EAT ALL YOU CAN COMFORTABLY HOLD OF these foods. For dessert eat any fresh fruit: cantaloupe, berries, apples, sliced oranges, pears. Substitute lean meats—beef, chicken, veal, white fish, trout, bass, etc.—for pork or any fat meats.

At night, have another FILL-UP: FULL meal as above, then sit down on butter and eat a dash of what you eat now. That's easy. For with your stomach full of other foods, you'll never notice it. Drink water or not as you like.

4 TO 7 POUNDS GONE IN WEEK

At the end of a week, you'll see the scale down four to seven pounds—according to how much overweight you are—from what you weigh! The day you started. Your health, too, will be better. You'll be more active, more vigorous than perhaps for years. Your friends will soon begin to notice your increasing slenderness. You'll soon avoid the embarrassment of being called fat or bulky. And you'll do it with NEVER A HUNGRY MOMENT!

If you doubt about this safe and simple way, ASK ANY DOCTOR. Show him this article. Ask him whether or not it is safe and sure. It marks the latest findings of scientific men in the field of weight reduction. For it performs two necessary and important functions.

The JAD SALTS clear the bowels and system of the excessive toxins most overweight people have. "The change in diet—the FILLING OF THE STOMACH TO ITS LIMIT—with foods that turn to energy instead of fat—decreases the weight by day. The salts build up your health. The change in food eases off the fat.

Start today. Clip this dietary out and save it. Get the package of ordinary JAD SALTS for the cleansing part of the method at any drug store. A large bottle costs less than a dollar.

Note particularly—the salts are urged purely as a poison-banishing agent—not as a reducing. The change in foods does the work.—(adv.)

LIVE STOCK EXHIBIT IN MOULTRIE TODAY

Senators George and Congressman Cox To Speak on 'Cattle Feeders' Program

MOULTRIE, Ga., May 11.—(AP)—Experts at judging the weight of cattle will have a unique opportunity here Tuesday at cattle feeders' day.

The prizes are registered live stock and the contestants are to try to judge the weight and market value of five groups of cattle fed in a series of experiments at the Georgia experimental station.

Besides the judging contest and a number of addresses on farm topics, there are to be speeches by United States Senator Walter F. George and Congressman E. Cox.

H. P. Stuckey, F. R. Edwards, G. A. Hale and Z. A. Massey, all of the Georgia experimental station, are to make addresses. Others on the program are W. C. Vereen, of Moultrie; Dr. H. P. Rattensperger, of the United States department of agriculture; H. H. Moore, of Moultrie; H. H. Edwards, of Valdosta; H. McDowell, of Moultrie; J. G. Eddell and W. F. Ward, of the Georgia State College of Agriculture.

HERSHEL J. PARKER PASSES IN BAXLEY

BAXLEY, Ga., May 11.—Hershel J. Parker, a county superintendent almost a quarter of a century, was stricken by an attack of paralysis Monday as he arose from his chair and died 20 minutes later.

Mr. Parker suffered a similar attack some months ago, but was at his office last Friday. He was active in church and lodge affairs, being secretary of the Holmesville Masonic lodge. A widow, a daughter and a son survive.

GRAND HOTEL

By VICKI BAUM

INSTALLMENT I.

The hall porter was a little white about the gills as he came out of No. 7 booth. He went for his key which he had left on the radiator.

"What was it?" asked the operator at the switchboard, earphones over his head and the red and green stops between his fingers.

"They've taken my wife to the hospital all of a sudden. I don't know at all what that means. She says it's beginning. But, good heavens! it can't have got that far."

The operator was only half listening. He had a call to put through. "Well, don't worry, Herr Sent," he said. "You'll find a fine boy first thing in the morning."

"Thank you, anyway, for calling me to the phone here. I can't go shouting about my private affairs over there at my desk. Duty is duty."

"Just so. And when the baby's there I'll give you a ring," said the operator absently, and went on with his calls. The porter took his cap and went off on tip-toe. He did this unconsciously because his wife was ailed and about to have a child.

As he crossed the passage, where the silent reading and writing rooms had half their lights switched off, he felt a deep breath and ran his fingers through his hair. He was surprised to find them wet, but there was no time to wash his hands. After all, the routine of the hotel could not be upset because Herr Sent's wife was expecting a baby.

The music from the tea room in the new building beat in syncope from mirror to mirror along the walls. It was dinner time and a smell of cooking was in the air, but behind the closed doors of the large dining room there was still silence and vacancy.

The chef, Mattoni, was setting out his cold buffet in the small white room. The porter felt a strange weakness in his knees and he stopped a moment in the doorway, arrested by the bright gleams of the colored lights behind the blocks of ice. In the corridor an electrician was kneeling on the floor, busied over some repair to the wires. Ever since that same day had those powerful lights to illuminate the hotel frontage, there had always been something going wrong with the overworked installation of the hotel.

The porter pulled himself together and went back to his post. Little Georgi meanwhile had taken charge. Georgi was the son of the proprietor of a large hotel business who wanted to see his son work his way up from the ranks. Sent, feeling somewhat oppressed, made his way straight across the lounge, where there was now a throng of movement. Here the jazz band from the tea room encountered the violins from the winter garden, while mingled with them came the thin murmur of the illuminated fountain as it fell into the Venetian basin, the ring of glasses on tables, the creaking of wicker chairs, and, lastly, a soft rustle of the furs and silks in which women were moving to and fro. A cool March air came in gusts through the revolving doors whenever the page boy passed guests in or out.

"All right," said little Georgi in English as Sent finally dropped anchor at the porter's desk. "Here's the 7 o'clock mail. Sixty-eight has been making a row because her chauffeur wasn't there on the tick. Rather a hysterical lad, eh?"

"Sixty-eight—that Grusinskaya," said the hall porter, and began to sort the letters with his right hand. "That's the dancer. We know her—for 18 years past. She gets a fit of nerves every night before she goes on the stage, and then she makes a row."

A tall gentleman in the lounge got up stiffly out of an easy chair and came with bent head towards the porter's desk. He loitered for a bit round the lounge before approaching the entrance hall. His impression he made was emphatically one of listlessness and boredom as he glanced at the magazines displayed on the little bookstand and lit a cigarette. Finally, however, he brought up beside the porter and asked casually, "Any letters for me?"

The porter knew his cue in this little comedy. He looked at the pigeon-hole No. 218 before he replied: "Not this time, Herr Doktor." Whereupon the tall gentleman slowly set himself in motion, and, after a long, lingering look at his chair he sank down into it stiff-legged, and then stared blindly out into the lounge. His face, it must be said, consisted of one-half only, in which the sharp and ascetic profile of a Jesuit was completed by an unusually well-shaped ear beneath the sparse gray hair on his temples. The other half of his face was not there. In place of it was a confused medley of seams and scars, crossing and overlapping, and among them was set a glass eye. "A souvenir from Flanders," Dr. Otterschlag was accustomed to call it when talking to himself.

He sat there for a while surveying the gilded stucco capitals of the marble pillars, a sight he was heartily sick of, and staring his fill with unseeing eyes into the lounge, which was now emptying fairly quickly as the theaters opened. Then he got up once more and stumbled across with his marionette past to the porter's desk, where Herr Sent, putting aside his private affairs, was now officiating with zeal.

"No one asked for me?" Dr. Otterschlag inquired as he glanced at the glazed mahogany board where the porter pasted notes and messages. "No one, Herr Doktor."

"Telegram?" asked Dr. Otterschlag after a moment. Herr Sent obligingly looked once more in pigeon-hole 218, though he knew very well there was nothing in it.

"Not today, Herr Doktor," and added, with a touch of human kindness, "Perhaps Herr Doktor would like to go to the theater. I have a good orchestra seat for Grusinskaya—at the Theater des Westens?"

"Grusinskaya? No thanks!" said Dr. Otterschlag and wandered off through the entrance hall and back round the lounge to his chair. So Grusinskaya doesn't sell out, any more, he thought meanwhile. Not surprised. Know I'll never go to see her again. He settled down miserably in his chair.

"That man's enough to drive one crazy," said the porter to little Georgi. "Everlastingly asking for letters. Every year for 10 years he's spent a month or two here, and not a letter has he ever had and not even a dog has ever asked for him. And there he sits about just the same and waits..."

"Who's waiting?" asked Robna, the head reception clerk, from the desk near by, sticking up his bright red head over the low glass partition. But the porter did not reply. He thought he had just heard his wife cry out and he strained his ears. Then he had to dismiss his private cares again, and help little Georgi unravel some complicated train connections in Spanish for the Mexican gentleman in room No. 117. Page boy No. 24, with red cheeks and well-plastered hair, shot across from the elevator and called out excitedly—too loud for the dignity of the lounge—"Baron Gaiger's chauffeur!" Robna raised an admiring and respectful eye like a conductor. The porter passed on the order for the chauffeur by telephone. Georgi opened eyes of boyish expectation.

There was a smell of lavender and expensive cigarettes, immediately followed by a man whose appearance was so striking that many heads were turned to look at him. He was unusually tall and extremely well dressed and his step was as elastic as a cat's or a tennis champion's. He wore a dark blue trench coat over his dinner jacket and this was scarcely correct perhaps, but it gave an attractively negligent air to his appearance. He stretched out his arm without looking over the porter's table for a handful of letters which he put straight into his pocket, taking out at the same time a pair of buckskin gloves. With a friendly nod to the head reception clerk he put on his dark felt hat, took out his cigarette case and put a cigarette between his lips. The next moment he removed his hat and stood aside to allow two ladies to pass before him through the revolving door. It was Grusinskaya, a small slim figure in a fur coat, followed by a vague and self-effacing being in a dark dress.

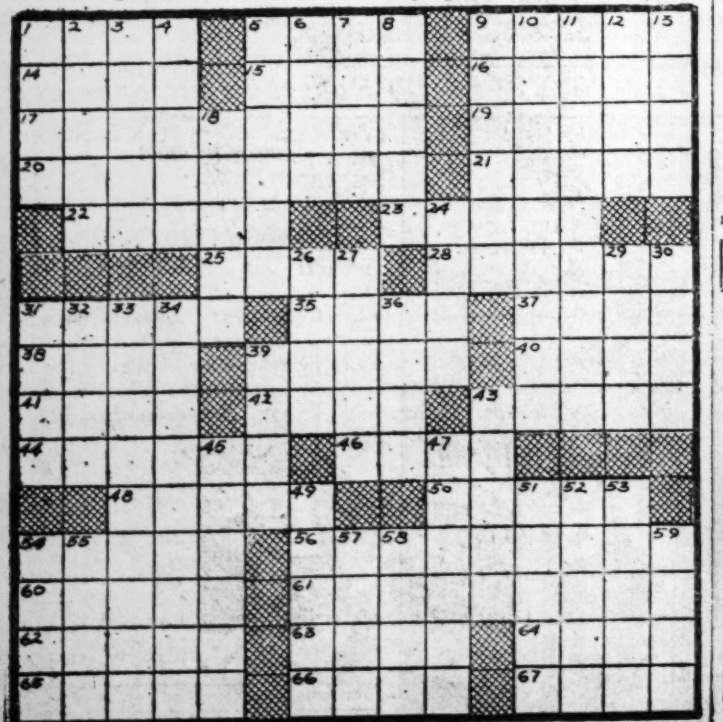

When the commissioner at the entrance had showed these two in their car the engaging gentleman in the blue raincoat lit his cigarette, and his hand in his pocket for a coin to give page boy No. 11 who was working the revolving door, and disappeared through its whirling of reflected lights with blinding air of a young fellow going out on the spree.

LAST RITES TODAY FOR LAKE VICTIMS

Funeral rites for the three Atlantans who were drowned in Lake Rabun, Lakemont, Sunday afternoon, will be conducted today.

Rites for J. P. Wall, chairman of the city democratic executive committee, who gave his life to save his companions in the ill-fated boat, will be held at 2:30 o'clock at the Moreland Avenue Baptist church, of which he was an active member, with the Rev. T. T. Davis, the Rev. Robert L. Lankin and the Rev. Samuel A. Cowan officiating. Interment will be in West View cemetery.

Joint services will be conducted at 9:30 o'clock this morning at the Moreland Avenue Baptist church for Mr. and Mrs. Sharon Griffin, next-door neighbors of Mr. Wall, who were drowned despite the efforts of himself and his 13-year-old son, Milton Wall. The R. A. Robinson and the Rev. W. S. Hamilton will officiate, and interment will be at Mount Zion, with John Lodge No. 805, F. and A. M., and East Atlanta chapter No. 208, O. E. S. in charge.

Mayor Pro Tem, C. Everett Milligan Monday afternoon issued an order for the city hall to have the bodies of the three victims of the boat accident removed to the city hall morgue. The bodies were to be held there until they could be removed to the city hall morgue.

Meetings of the purchasing and sewer committees scheduled for Thursday afternoon were postponed until Monday.

The three Atlantans who were drowned at Lakemont Sunday when an overloaded boat hurled its seven occupants into the water, Mr. and Mrs. Sharon Griffin and their 13-year-old son, Milton Wall, were drowned first and last.

The boat, which was owned by Mr. Wall, was carrying seven persons, including the three victims, and was overloaded.

Lion in Flesh Scores White House Attacks

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(UP)—President Hoover apparently is no lion tamer. A lion, not a social stroller in today's and met with a cool reception, albeit respectful.

The hungry teeth, gleaming eyes, and rumbling roar of the king of the jungle—a six and a half-month-old cub on a leash—caused a scurrying among attaches in the White House outer offices.

His owner, George Hutchinson, wanted to see the president, and Mr. Hoover was glad to see him if he left the lion outside.

A roar from the beast, and brave police and secret service men jumped. Hutchinson slapped it, explaining, "He's a little snappy with strangers. The stranger, needed no warning. The cub amiably rolled on the carpet and growled indignantly but it didn't soften Secretary Mellon's heart any."

Social lions are fierce enough.

U. S. COURT RELEASES CAROLINA BALLOTS

RALPHIGH, N. C., May 11.—(AP)—An order directing United States attorneys to return to state authorities the ballots for the Bailey-Pritchard senatorial election contest, was signed today by Federal Judge L. M. McKinnis, at the request of attorneys for the state of North Carolina and for the senate sub-committee investigating the election.

Judge McKinnis, however, refused to issue the order until the senate committee had a right to institute the original petition, which he granted on May 4, when he directed the marshals to impound the ballots.

According to the returns announced by the North Carolina state board of elections, Joseph W. Bailey, democrat, defeated George M. Pritchard, republican, by a majority of more than 113,000, for the seat in the United States senate which was held by Senator F. M. Simmons for 30 years.

Pritchard is contesting the election, and the ballots were ordered impounded for a recount.

At the opening of the hearing today, Russell M. Robinson, of Greensboro, attorney for Senator Bailey, and James E. H. Moore, republican, and Robert J. Bulky, democrat, the members of the senate sub-committee, moved that the proceedings be dismissed.

This question was not ruled on by Judge McKinnis, who signed the motion presented by Judge Biggs, which asserted that the court had no jurisdiction.

Robinson's motion stated that the resolution passed by the North Carolina general assembly May 6, directing that the ballots be preserved, had no effect on the election.

The question was not ruled on by Judge McKinnis, who signed the motion presented by Judge Biggs, which asserted that the court had no jurisdiction.

FLETCHER SCORES RAILRAIL RAISE

Proposed Freight Increase Is Attacked by Florida Senator.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(AP)—The proposal of 50 railway executives for an increase in freight rates that would raise $450,000,000 more in revenue drew criticism today from Senator Fletcher, of Florida, ranking democrat on the senate commerce committee.

He called for lower rather than higher carrying charges and said one reason why trucks were moving so much freight today was because of "high rail rates."

"I cannot see how the railroads can expect to increase their revenues by increasing rates," he said. "Some ten years ago an increase of 40 per cent was allowed the railroads and this brought the rates up to the highest point ever reached. They have since revised downward by the interstate commerce commission in 5,000 out of 6,000 cases brought."

"Today the railroads complain of a loss of business and lay a good deal of that to competition by trucks and to some extent airplanes."

"Undoubtedly they would increase their revenues by raising the rates, provided they could carry the same amount of tonnage, but it is perfectly obvious that one reason why trucks are moving so much freight is because of the high rail rates. Consequently if those rates were increased there would be an inevitable decrease in tonnage."

"As an illustration, cotton is moving by truck a distance of over 100 miles into Pensacola where ships take it to Liverpool. The charges by truck are less than one-half the rail rates and the railroads are losing that business."

"Citrus fruits are moving by trucks from Florida to Cincinnati, Chicago, Cleveland, Philadelphia and Washington in increasing quantities. The shippers get the benefit of lower carrying charges by truck and save the packing house and selling agent charges besides."

"How can the railroads expect an increased revenue by raising rates when they already are losing tonnage at the present rates? We need the railroads, but it seems to me clear that in order to save their tonnage and their business their policy should be to lower the rates."

The express charges are certainly excessive and I understand that express companies are owned by the railroads.

"In the interest of the railroads and the public there ought to be a decrease in freight rates rather than an increase in freight rates."
